HUERTA DECLARES HE SHOULD BE RECOGNIZED

Says Wilson's Position Is Not Backed Up By Congress.

CALLS IT "PARTISAN QUESTION"

Main Argument of Provisional President Now Before Washington Officials—Many Predict End of Revolution.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Intimations are contained in Provisional President Huerta's reply to the American note presented by John Lind that President Wilson is not backed up by Congress, or the American people in his stand against recognition of the Huerta government.

Referring to the attacks on the Washington administration by members of Congress, and pointing to the official recommendations of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson advising recognition, Huerta declares he is entitled to be recognized. He holds that the Democratic party's power is temporary, and argues that recognition of his government is a partisan question in the United States. He intimates that he reaches his conclusion on private advices from Washington.

This information was obtained tonight from those who know the contents of the Huerta note so far as it has been deciphered. The complete note is not yet at hand, but the principal argument has been placed before administration officials.

Though negotiations between John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson and Provisional President Huerta are continuing on a cordial personal basis, neither side is receding from its position, and alternative measures already are under consideration here. No definite course has been formulated, but the policy which at present is under consideration and is most likely to be adopted is one of absolute non-interference.

The American government under such a policy would continue to deny arms to both sides, to withdraw Americans from trouble zones, insist on proper protection to property and lives and in effect, let the Mexicans continue their controversy on the battlefield.

The administration is determined against intervention or war, and the other alternative, friendly mediation apparently has failed. Officials here believe, however, that the United States, through the mission of Mr. Lind, will have satisfied governments generally of its desire to bring about peace and they do not concede that there will be any pressure to bring about intervention.

To grant arms to the constitutionalists would in the opinion of many officials only add to the dangers of anarchy in the republic, equipping bandit bodies with weapons of destruction of which they hitherto have been deprived.

That the United States will "keep hands off" was considered more than likely in many quarters here tonight and administration officials pointed to an important precedent for such action during the term of President Hayes when Gen. Porfirio Diaz assumed the reins of government May 2nd, 1877, after defeating the forces of President Lerdo.

Germany recognized Diaz on May 30th of that year; Salvador and Guatemala on June 7th, and Spain on June 16th, there being no other governments except the United States represented at Mexico City at that time.

In Presiden Hayes message in December 18th, 1877, he announced that recognition of the Diaz government had been deferred on account of the opposition him in northern Mexico, and Minister John W. Foster was instructed by Secretary Seward to state that the Washington government would wait before recognizing Gen. Diaz as President of Mexico until it shall be assured that his election is approved by the Mexican people and that his administration is possessed of stability to endure and of ability to comply with the rules of internatoinal comity and the obligation of treaties.

It was not until May, 1878, nearly a year after Diaz came into possession of the de factor government in Mexico City, that recognition was extended by the United States. During the interval correspondence was maintained through the legation as at present through the embassy due attention being called to the necessity for protecting American lives and property.

The present administration proposes to defer recognition until a constitutional election shall have been held, and President Wilson stands firmly against recognizing the Huerta regime under any circumstances. From these considerations it is not likely that Mr. Lind's informal parleys with the Huerta officials will continue long. He will remain in Mexico City indefinitely, as advisor of the American embassy which is without an ambassador. He will continue to make reports on the situation to President Wilson and retain, so far as possible, cordial relations with the de facto government for the purpose of obtaining proper protection to American interests.

Advices that the Huerta government is seriously handicapped by lack of funds, that there is little money with which to pay the troops and news of constitutionalist victories strengthen the belief in official circles here that a settlement of the revolution will be accomplished by the constitutionalists within a short period.

The Proposals Rejected.

Mexico City, Mex., Aug. 20.—The proposals of the Washington government which Mexico rejected in toto were:

First—Complete cessation of hostilities.

Second—That President Huerta re-

ORDERS SAILORS PUNISHED

Daniels Condemns Action of Tars of Pacific Reserve Fleet Who Helped Destroy I. W. W. and Socialists' Property at Seattle.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Secretary Daniels has directed the punishment of the sailors of the Pacific Reserve fleet who participated in the destruction of the Industrial Workers of the World and Socialists' property in Seattle, July 17-18th, if they can be identified, though he severly condemned the civilians who abused the sailors and the American flag.

The Secretary's action was based upon a report by a board of investigation headed by Commander Thomas Washington. The board found that for some time before the rioting at Seattle there had been attacks upon the flag the Government, and particularly upon the army and navy in the Pacific seaport cities by people calling themselves members of the Industrial Workers of the World and to some extent by so-called socialists.

The civil authorities, the report said, allowed speakers to harangue crowds and engender ill feeling resulting in the attak upon the soldiers and two sailors July 17th. This led to the burning and destruction of property on the following night.

The board placed direct responsibility for the action of the crowd led by civilians and including only a small proportion of enlisted men, upon the failure of the police force to prevent the destruction of property because of their sympathy with the purposes of the crowd. Furthermore the board expressed the opinion that the rioting was attributable to general sentiment against the Industrial Workers of the World, and the criticism of the press, and that the presence o fthe enlistedmen was made to serve the purpose of accomplishing an end which the better element of people desired and the press encouragd.

In passing upon this report, which was transmitted by Rear Admiral Reynolds, Secretary Daniels declared that while the conduct of those who denounced and assaulted soldiers was most reprehensible and deserving condemnation,, "their violent language unprovoked assault an soldiers and lawlessness doesn't justify retaliation in kind."

The Secretary recalled his statement in a speech in Seattle that obedience to authorities in respect of the flag must precede any reforms. He expressed regret that the sailors had permitted themselves to forget duty to uphold the law which they had sworn to uphold and added that their conduct in Seattle was against the naval regulations and couldn't be condoned or allowed to go without punishment.

Admiral Reynolds was directed to have the Secretary's letter read on the ships of the fleet, and to have the men engaged in the affair punished in such a manner as the admiral may judge is adequate for the offense.

So far as known none of the sailors participating in the affair have been identified.

Punishment Impracticable.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 20.—Rear Admiral Alfred Reynolds, in transmitting Secretary Daniels' letter, appends a direction to commanders of all ships of the Pacific reserve fleet to read the Secretary's statement at muster, but adds that inasmuch as it has been impossible to obtain proof of the participation of any specified man in the demonstration it will be impracticable to attempt any punishment.

Superior Judge John E. Humphries made permanent today his injunction against three Socialist orators, prohibiting them from speaking on the street. The injunction was issued on the complaint of owners and occupants of property.

Judge Humphries also made permanent his injunctions restraining Mayor Cotterill from interfering with the publication of the Evening Times, and of closing the saloon. The latter injunctions were issued the day after the sailor riots, when Mayor Cotterill took command of the police force and ordered the saloons closed and the Times censored.

THREE BLOCKS BURNED.

Seven Hundred Thousand Dollar Fire at Jersey City.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 30.—More than 40 dwellings and factories covering a space equal to more than three city blocks in the LaFayette section of this city, were destroyed by fire today in less than three hours.

Probably 400 persons were made homeless and six large manufacturing plants were wiped out. Forty dogs, under observation for hydrophobia in shelter of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, were shot to death just before the flames reached that building.

At night fall, many hose streams were still playing on the smouldering ruins, but there was no danger of further damage.

The aggregate property loss is estimated at $700,000.

THAW WILL BEGIN LEGAL FIGHT TODAY

Will Be a Free Man if Habeas Corpus Writ Is Sustained.

CANADA READY TO DETAIN HIM

Stanford White's Erratic Slayer to Be Produced Before Canadian Judge at Ten O'Clock This Morning—The Prisoner Reticent.

Sherbrooke, Quebec, Aug. 20.—Harry Kendall Thaw's legal fight against deportation to the United States after his dramatic escape from the Matteawan State Hospital, for the criminal insane on Sunday morning last, will begin in the open in this Canadian frontier town tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. He is to be produced then before Judge Globensky, of the Superior court, on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by his counsel this afternoon.

If the writ is sustained he will be a free man. But for how long he will be free is problematical. Dominion immigration authorities, watching every move in the case, announced tonight they stand ready to detain him, should he be released, and then to take steps to thrust him back across the border as "an undesirable alien" either at the New Hampshire line, where he entered the Dominion, or at some point in New York State.

Thaw's Lips Sealed.

Facing such a situation, Stanford White's erratic slayer, ordinarily loquacious, has shut his lips tight, and for once in his life has refused to be interviewed. He ha stalked vaguely of matters not appertaining to his escape but not one word has come from him regarding his flight from Matteawan or of the inception of the plot that led to his delivery or of the five men who spirited him away.

Of these five, one is believed to be in jail in Sherbrooke. He gave the name of "Mitchell Thompson" and insisted that he was a resident of Toronto. But both Sheriff Fornbeck and District Attorney Conger of Duchess county, New York who looked him over today, said he was none other than "Gentleman Roger" Thompson, late of New York ity, and reputed chauffeur of the black autmobile that whirled Thaw from Matteawan at more than 60 miles an hour.

Chauffeur Arrested.

Thompson was idling in the Superior court room waiting for the Thaw case to come up, when the immigration officers arrested him. He was quickly identified as one of the two men with Thaw when he was arrested near Coaticook yesterday. He denied that he had aided Thaw in crossing the border and maintained that he had met the fugitive by chance. Notwithstanding his protestations of innocence he was held in $500 bail for a hearing Friday. Unable to furnish the bond, he was remanded to jail.

Technically he is charged with aiding and abetting a lunatic to cross the Canadian border, an offense punisnable with a $500 fine. If the authorities fail to hold him on this charge, District Attorney Conger will seek his extradition on a warrant charging Roger Thompson with conspiring with others to defeat the ends of justice in liberating Thaw.

The warrant is here but will not be pressed until the immigration law violation has been tested.

Thompson's defense, it is understood will emphasize (provided he admits coming across the border with Thaw), the contention that Thaw has not been found insane in Canada and that assisting him to enter therefore was not a violation of law. In this way the question of Thaw's sanity will be involved in the procedure separate from his own case.

Thompson's arrest in the court room today was unnoticed by the casual

MAY IMPEACH JUDGE SPEER

Serious Charges Against Georgia Federal Judge Considered by the House Judiciary Committee in Guarded Session.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Charges which, if sustained, may be the foundation of another impeachment case in the Senate, are made against Federal Judge Emory Speer, of the Fifth Georgia Circuit, in papers considered today in a carefully guarded session of the House Judiciary committee.

The committee had before it the report of an investigation into Judge Speer's conduct by Special Examiner R. C. Lewis, submitted by the Department of Justice along with numerous affidavits and other exhibits. No action was taken, the committee adjourning until Friday, and each member pledging himself not to discuss the charges in the meantime.

The most serious charges dealt with in the examiner's report are:

"That Judge Speer unlawfully permitted the wasting or dissipation of bankruptcy estates that came within his jurisdiction as a Federal judge.

"That he presided in cases in which his son-in-law was an attorney on a contingent fee, with full knowledge that his decision would affect the fee of his son-in-law.

"That he was guilty of imposing unlawful punishments for contempt in cases coming before his court.

"That he ignored the mandates of the Circuit Court of Appeals and of

NEXT TARIFF FIGHT FOR FREE RAW WOOL

Work on Cotton and Flax Schedules Practically Completed

DEMOCRATS SURE OF VICTORY

Minority Having Won in Free Sugar Fight Has No Fear of Losing on Wool—Recent Progress Encouraging.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Free raw wool is the next fight ahead on the tariff bill in the Senate, and it probably will be reached tomorrow, the cotton and flax schedules having been practically disposed of today.

The free sugar victory having been won for the administration yesterday with a few votes to spare, Democratic leaders have no fear of losing on wool. The vote, it is expected, will be about the same as that on sugar, with Senators Thornton and Ransdell, of Louisiana, the only Democrats voting with the Republicans.

Progress on the bill in the last few days has been encouragingly rapid, and tonight there were some predictions that the tariff bill might be out of the way by September 15th. Less resistance than was expected developed on the cotton schedule, Senator Lippitt, of Rhode Island, conducting the opposition. He induced the Democrats to accept one of his suggestions modifying provisions of a paragraph relating to cotton cloths, and the committee also agreed to reconsider the paragraph together with that relating to table damasks. Some re-classifications may be agreed to later.

More Discusion on Cotton.

Final disposition of the cotton rates will not be made without another discussion, however, because Senator LaFollette, gave notice that he would submit a substitute for the entire schedule when the bill came from the committee of the whole.

Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, vigorously opposed the free listing of flax and hemp as decreed by the Senate Finance committee. He asked the Democrats why they had retained protection on the products of the flax mills and given free materials to the mills.

"We have chosen to put all textile raw materials on the free list," said Senator Williams, "to enable us to make greater reductions in the tariffs on finished products than we otherwise could have done."

Debate Enlivened.

Senators Penrose and Martine enlivened the tariff debate today by a spirited exchange of personalities. Mr. Martine quoted Rudolph Spreckles, and believing free sugar would not ruin the beet sugar industry in the West, that the Hawaiian industry would continue and that the Louisiana cane industry had been too long protected.

"That the Senate may know the impartiality of Mr. Spreckles in the matter, I wish to call attention to his contribution to President Wilson's campaign fund," interjected Mr. Penrose. He added that Mr. Spreckles was interested in free sugar.

"The Senator from Pennsylvania has lived so long under the shadows of a boiler factory that the welding of plate and the riveting of a boiler have more attraction for him than the cries of suffering humanity," retorted Mr. Martine.

Consideration of the cotton schedule proceeded. A committee amendment limiting spools to 600 yards proposed by Senator Hoke Smith, was adopted.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Acting Secretary of War Breckenridge today appointed Brigadier General E. A. Wedgewood, adjutant general of the Utah militia, a member of the National Militia Board, vice Brigadier General Charles R. Boardman, of Wisconsin, resigned.

OUTLINES

Harry K. Thaw will be produced before a Canadian judge on a writ of habeas corpus at ten o'clock this morning, and should the writ be sustained he will be a free man.

Martin H. Glynn has been officially recognized as the Chief Executive of New York State by the board of trustees of public buildings. Sulzer is still unrelenting.

The prosecution and defense in the trial of Leo M. Frank, for murder, have rested their cases, and arguments of the attorneys will be heard today. The case will probably go to the jury tomorrow morning.

Free raw wool is the next fight ahead on the tariff bill in the Senate, the coton and flax schedules having been practically completed.

Serious charges against Federal Judge Emory Speer, of Georgia, now being considered by the House Judiciary Commitee, may result in an impeachment case in the Senate.

Thirty-five men were entomved in the Catskill aqueduct under Washington Heights, New York city, by a gire nthe shaft. They were rescued at an early hour this morning.

President Huerta intimates in his reply to he American note presented by John Lind that President Wilson is not receiving the support of congress or the people, in his stand against recognition of the Huerta regime.

SULZER STILL UNRELENTING

Glynn Issues Statement Outlining His Policy—Clash of Authority Between Rival Governors Expected to Follow.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Martin H. Glynn was officially recognized as acting Governor of New York State by the board of trustees of public buildings late today when rooms in the Capitol were designated as the "executive chamber" for his use. The Assembly parlor and a committee were set aside as the acting Governor's quarters. They are situated on the third floor, while the executive offices to which Governor Sulzer still clings are on the floor below.

As his first act after moving into the new offices, Mr. Glynn issued a statement outlining his policy. In part the statement says:

"I do not intend to employ a temporary occupancy of the Governorship for the purpose of partisan warfare.

"Under me, as acting Governor there will be no political earthquakes, and no factional reprisals.

"I have no intention of removing departmental heads for mere political reasons.

"I propose to discharge my sworn obligations for the best interest of the public.

"I ask the hearty co-operation of all State officials and all good citizens

MAIL CLERKS WANT OLD RUN

Godwin Asks That It be Restored Between Washington and Fayetteville—Congressman Sends for Winter Clothes.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—Representative Godvin today asked the Postoffice Department o restore the old run of mail clerks running between Washington and Fayetteville, so that these men could lay over in Fayetteville. It is said that the changes make it necessary for some 50 or more men to stop over either at Rocky Mount or Columbia, S. C. The clerks for the most part own their own homes, and the order making it impossible for them to get home at the end of their work is a great injustice and works a hardship on them.

A disease known as "milk sick" is prevalent in the vicinity of Minneapolis, Avery county, according to Dr. L. E. Clark, of that place, who wrote Representative Webb to have a public health surgeon sent there to make an investigation. The disease is communicated to human beings through butter and milk and those affected with the scourge rarely ever get well.

"Till the Snow Flies."

Representative Godwin has sent home for his Winter clothes. In a letter to Mrs. Godwin today the Sixth District Congressman says he does not believe Congress will adjourn before August 15, 1914, and asks that his Winter wearing apparel be sent.

MAURY I. DIGGS IS GUILTY SAYS JURY

Five Years in Federal Penitentiary the Maximum Penalty.

VIOLATED WHITE SLAVE ACT

Attorneys Admitted Acts of Defendant But Held They Did Not Constitute Violation of The White Slave Law.

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—In eloping with Marsha Warrington from Sacramento, Cal., to Reno, Nev., Maury I. Diggs, former State architest of California, was found guilty of violating the Mann act, which makes it a felony to transport women for immoral purposes from one State to another. This was the verdict tonight of the jury that tried him. Five years in the Federal penitentiary is the maximum penalty.

The case of the government against Diggs went to the jury late today with no attempt by the defense to prove that Diggs did not transport Marsha Warrington across the State line from Sacramento, Cal., to Reno, Nev., or that they did not live there for there days as husband and wife.

These acts, it was admitted, had been committed, but they did not constitute a violation of the Mann white slave traffic act because they had not been done with criminal intent. The trip to Reno had been half an accident. If Diggs and Marsha Warrington, with Drew Caminetti and Lola Norris, their companions had not missed an earlier train they would have remained within the State and though their offense against morality would have been the same, they would not have transgresed a Federal statute.

Diggs Made No Denial.

"This defendant," asserted the government prosecutor, "did not deny on the stand the truth of the essentials we have shown here. He had to admit them all. The defendant in a criminalw case usually relies on the presumption of his innccence. But this defendant relies upon his own depravity and licentiousness."

In seeking to establish that the trip was not premeditated and that the two girls had not been induced to take it by threats of scandal on one hand promises on the other, Diggs willingly testified to his own misconduct and the embarrassments, domestic and business, into which it had led him.

His counsel in summing the evidence did not palliate these acts.

"Not White Slavery."

"Pain this defendant as you will—a monster if you please," argued Robert Devlin, his senior counsel, "but tell me what motive he would have ha din going out of the State for the purpose of accomplishing those things already accomplished.

"Counsel may characterize him as they please and I may not differ with them. They say his act was shameless and I may feel the same way about it, but it is not white slavery."

This was the whole argumentative substance of the defense. In view of the contention of the defense that no criminally immoral purpose had been proved, the interpretation of the statute by the judge was awaited with much interest. On this point he said in part:

"The act, so far as here involved, provides in substance that any person who shall knowingly transport in inter-State commerce any woman or girl for the purpose of prostitution or debauchery or for any other immoral purpose shall be deemed guilty

SECHREST NAMED STATE COUNCILOR

Junior Order American Mechanics Elects Officers for Ensuing Year

WILL MEET AT DURHAM NEXT

State Council of Popular Fraternal Order Meets at Wrightsville Beach—Given Cordial Welcome Yesterday.

Durham was selected as the next meeting place and officers for the ensuing year were elected by the State Council of the Junior Order of American Mechanics at the session last night at the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach. Mr. J. W. Sechrest, of High Point, was elected State Councilor by acclamation and Mr. Sam F. Vance, of Winston-Salem, State secretary, and Mr. George V. Fulp, of Kernersville, State treasurer, were re-elected by acclamation.

Only two other cities, Charlotte and Gostonia, asked for the convention, and these got only a few scattering votes, the total being about 20. Durham sent a special train down yesterday with 140 members of the local orders in that city. It was all Durham's way from the start, and there was little doubt, even before the ballot was cast, as to what the result would be. Gastonia ran second and Charlotte was third.

The other officers elected are as follows:

Vice Councilor—Mayor Paul Jones, Tarboro.

Assistant Secretary—A. M. Noble, Smithfield.

Conductor—G. C. Robbins, Rocky Mount.

Warden—J. W. East, Spray.

Inside Sentinel—C. L. Sands, Reidsville.

Outside Sentinel—H. O. Sapp, Winston-Salem.

Chaplain—Rev. W. B. Duttera, Salisbury.

Mr Sechrest by Acclamation.

Candidates for the different officers were nominated at the morning session yesterday. The only matter taken up last night was the balloting on the candidates that had been nominated. Only one candidate was placed in nomination for State Councilor, the highest office of the State Council, this being that of Mr. J. W. Sechrest, of High Point, who served the past year as Vice Counsilor. He was elected by acclamation. There were no candidates nominated for the positions of State secretary and State treasurer, and the incumbents were also elected by acclamation.

Only two ballots were taken last night. On the first ballot all of the officers were elected with the exception of Vice Councilor and Outside Sentinel. Mayor Jones, of Tarboro, came near being elected to the position of Vice Councilor on the first ballot, lacking only two votes of having a majority. He won by a handsome majority on the second ballot.

There will be a session of the convention this morning, and it is probable that this will be the closing one of the convention. May of the delegates will leave on the early morning trains today while the majority will go out this afternoon.

Over 400 Here.

There are more than 400 delegates in attendance, and those who have been attending the meetings of the State conventions during past years state that it is the most successful and enthusiastic meeting of Juniors that they have ever attended.

This afternoon the visitors who desire to do so will be given an opportunity to go down the Cape Fear to Fort Caswell on the steamer Wilmington. It is expected that there will be a large number who will make the trip.

There was an executive session held yesterday afternoon at which many matters of importance to the order were considered. There were several matters which were expected to come up yesterday afternoon that were not discussed owing to a lack of time. One of these is a contemplated change in the time of meeting. State Councilor Eure has recommended that the convention be held in May instead of August as at present, and this will be acted upon today. At the close of the meeting yesterday afternoon the delegates were photographed.

Durham's Excursion.

Durham Juniors have made a persistent and systematic campaign for the convention next year, and their last work in this direction was the sending of a special train yesterday loaded with Juniors. It had been expected to send 300 or 400, but owing to unfavorable weather conditions the number reached only 140.

Reports of Officers.

State Councilor Eure, of Greensboro, made his annual report to the convention yesterday which showed that the Junior Order in North Carolina is going rapidly forward, and that it is now second in membership only to Ohio, and that at the present rate of increase it will be only a year or so when this State will surpass her. He also stated that the Councils throughout the State are alive and active in pushing forward the principles of the order.

He reviewed the history of the work of the year giving particular emphasis to the work that the Juniors have done in helping to secure the passage of the six months school term law by the last Legislature and also the compulsory education. He recommended that the time for holding the State convention be changed from the time now designated to a time as near the 20th of May as possible. He also recommended that the office of District Deputy State Councilor be made elective instead of an appointive office as at the present time.

Secretary Vance, of Winston-Salem, also made his report, a summary of Athletics Took Final Game from Detroit—Yanks Dropped Two to Browns—Red Sox Dropped Fourth Straight.

The Athletics took the second straight game from the Detroit Tigers yesterday by a 5 to 2 score, Big Chief Bender having been relieved by Brown after the game was secure. Dauss, for the Tigers, allowed one less hit than both the Philadelphia twirlers, and the errors were four and three, respectively.

The Chicago White Sox made a clean sweep of the series with the World Champions by taking the final game yesterday, score 1 to 0. The Red Sox, during the series of four games, have been able to put just one runner across the plate. Yesterday's game was a great pitchers duel between Scott, of the White Sox, and Fred Anderson, the Brockton, Mass., recruit of the Red Sox. A total of seven hits was the result of the game, both teams also being credited with one error each.

The St. Louis Browns won both ends of a double-header from the New York Yankees, the first 2 to 1, and the latter event by the shut-out score of 7 to 0.

Although the schedules showed a game between Washington and Cleveland yesterday, the teams were en route to new stamping grounds, and did not play.

McGraw early this month gave Crandall for Larry McLean, a catcher, who has been doing regular duty since Chief Meyers is out of the game. The exchange was said to have made several of the Giants so angry that they engaged in a fist fight with their manager, as Crandall has been with the local club a number of years.

COBB VS. JACKSON

While Tris Speaker, of the Boston Red Sox, was pursuing the even tenor of his way, batting out a .500 standing in Tuesday's game, both Ty Cobb and Joe Jackson slipped back another point, each turning out a .333 average for the day. Both visited the swatting post three legal times, and each succeeded in connecting with one for two bags in the three trials. Jackson had a sacrifice hit to add to his record, but Cobb had a stolen base to counterbalance it.

DECLINES INVITATION.

Oklahoma Governor Will Not Leave State Because of Lieut. Governor.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 20.—Governor Lee Cruce, of Oklahoma, in a letter received today by the Chamber of Commerce, declined an invitation to attend the conference of Governors next week. The letter continues:

"The lieutenant governor seems determined to overthrow all of my policies and to make wnolesale delivery of criminals from the penitentiary!

"The criminal court of appeals in this State has joined hands with the Lieutenant Governor in this raid on the penal institutions by holding that the moment I leave the State, even if my absence extend only five minutes, the Lieutenant Governor can do as he pleases. Under these conditions it would be a crime for me to leave Oklahoma."

CENTER FIELDER HOLDEN

Of Eastern Association Purchased by New York Club.

New York, Aug. 20.—The New York American League Club today purchased William P. Holden center fielder, of the New London club of the Eastern Association. Holden is said to be one of the fastest men in the association and his batting average for the season is .349. He will report to Manager Chance at the end of the Eastern Association season.

Sox Young Outfielder Throws With Either Hand

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 20.—The White Sox have a young outfielder who is destined to become one of the curiosities of the American League.

Edward Rausch is his name and the think that makes him wonderful is the fact that he heaves the ball from deep right with his left hand and from deep left fileld wit his right.

We've all heard about the ambidextrous ball players. Away back when Anson was a recruit there were a couple of fellows who pitched with either hand. But it is doubtful whether there is one fan in a hundred who ever gazed upon a younster who could throw as well with one hand as with the other.

Manager Callahan didn't know that he was getting a curiosity as well as a ball player when he purchased Rausch from the Evansville club of the Central League. The youngster reported on Friday. The Sox were at morning practice when the youth reported. You thought it was too late in the season for morning practice? Manager Callahan is still in the hunt for whatever he can obtain and is determined to finish just as high as possible. Which accounts for the fact that the men weer being drilled in everything permtaining to baseball.

As was remarked, the Sox weer at morning practice when the youngster reported. He was handed a suit and told to go out and chase fly balls. He did. He went to right.

"Who's the youngster?" went the query.

"Oh, that's young Rausch," from Kid Gleason. It's the duty of the assistant manager to work with the men and especially the youngsters, at the A. M. drill.

"Left hand thrower?" it was queried.

"It would seem so," was the answer of Gleason., It also was apparent, for the youngster was shooting the balls in on a line from right field and he was employing his left hand.

Pretty soon he went to left field and played there awhile. One of the fellows shot a line drive out there. And then everybody stood about in amazement. For the youngster returned the ball with his right hand. And he shot it in on a line, too.

"Hey!" howled Gleason. He didn't want any mistake about it, and he did want some information. In trotted the youngster.

"Are you a right or left hand thrower?" queried the assistant coach.

"Don't make and difference to me," answeerd the youngster. "When I play right field I throw with my left hand. When I'm in left I throw with miy right."

"Don't make any difference to you, eh?" queried Gleason.

"None at all. Why?"

"Oh, I just wanted to know." It takes a lot to keep the assistant manager from retorting, but there was none on his tongue this time.

PIRATE CREW TOOK FINAL

Made It Three Out of Five From Giants—Phillies Won From Cubs. Dodgers and Reds Won From Cardinals and Braves.

John McGraw made a prediction on the day that the Giants ascended to the top of the percentage column that the Pitsburg Pirates and the Chicago Cubs would do more to hinder the New Yorkers from keeping first place than any other teams. That prediction found its fulfillment yesterday, when the Pirates concluded their five-game series, taking the final by a four to one score, and making it three out of five games from the leaders.

Rube Marquard started the game, but was replaced by Crandell after the fifth inning. Otis pitched good ball, but allowed one additional score to leak across in the remainder of the game.

Raw fielding by the Cubs allowed the Phillies to win the final at Philadelphia by a three to one score, an even half dozen errors by the Chicagoans figuring in the run total of the Phillies.

The Brooklyn Dodgers took their final with the Cardinals by an eight to nothing score, Earl Yingling, the leading swatter of the National League, pitching magnificent ball. Collins, a new recruit, made four singles in five trials.

The Cincinnati Reds made it three out of five over the Boston Braves by taking yesterday's final by a four to one score.

Started on Expense Draws $20,000 Per

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—It is never known to fail that just as soon as a man attains a prominent position in public life, people start to rake his past. They're not contented until they get something on him, either. You'll always find someone who says, "So and so? Why, I remember when he didn't have a shirt to his back," etc.

Well, John McGraw, manager of the Giants, is no exception to the rule. They say he is getting $20,000 a season for managing the Giants of New York. If he is getting that sum he didn't always get it. In fact, we have proof down here that once he used to play professional ball for nothing.

An old contract was unearthed here a few days ago, signed by McGraw and five other players who were members of the Ocala Giants in 1891. The document, which is in the possession of George K. Robinson of Ocala, who was manager of the Ocala Giants at that time, was found among some old papers. It is signed by McGraw, George Kurz, J. Connor, C. F. Thorp, Frank Stratton and Ed. Mars. It reads, baseball players and members of the Ocala Giants agree to play with the Ocala club until further notified, for board, shaving, washing expenses. Also a cigar once a week.

CHANGES CONSIDERED.

Owen Visits President and Declares Allegiance to the Currency Bill.

Washington, Aug. 20.—While Democrats ofthe House were threshing out differences over the administration currency bill in caucus today, Chairman Owen and his Democratic associates on the Senate currency committee began the consideration of possible changes to be made in the measure when it is taken up in the Senate.

Senator Owen visited the White House early in the day and held a short conference with the President. He made it clear later that he expected to support the Administration bill, but that he held himself free in recommend such changes as he considered advisable. His suggestions yesterday to members of the committee that changes might be necessary in the plan for regional reserve banks occasioned general comment in Congressional circles today.

The meeting of the Democratic members of the Senate Committee today brought out a number of tentative suggestions for amendments, but no definite plan of action. Senators Shafroth and Hollis at the conclusion of the conference expressed confidence that the currency measure would be passed at the present Congress, and Chairman Owen saidthere was "no doubt of it."

Among the suggestions considered by the Senate committee today was one by Senator Shafroth to drop all present forms of paper currency except the silver certificates, and replace with treasury notes secured by a 50 per cent reserve fund, and another by Senator Reed to have the Treasury issue money directly to the banks under careful restrictions.

Chairman Owen opposed suggestions for the adoption of a plan simlar to that embraced in the Lea bill now in the Senate, which would amplify the present Aldrich-Vreeland Emergency Currency law.

He insisted this would commit the Democratic party to the Aldrich-Vreeland plan, and would be politically objectionable, and that it would contemplate the issuance of notes by the banks, a form of currency that he strongly opposes.

The House caucus completed general debate and will begin the reading o fthe administration bill, and the consideration of amendments tomorrow. The measure now has been before the caucus more than a week, and its consideration probably will not be completed for several days.

Representative Henry introduced in the caucus today his amendment to authorize specifically the federal banks to re-discount notes or bills secured by warehouse receipts or liens on agricultural products. A similar amendment will be reported by the Banking and Currency Committee.

Before the bill passes the House and reaches the Senate it is expected that the Democrats of the Senate committee will have agreed upon a general plan of currency reform, and will invite the Republican members to join them in the discussion of prospective amendments to the administration bill.

Chairman Travis, of the Corporation Commission, is able to be out again after having been confined to his home for 10 days past.

There were sensational developments today in the case of the Yadkin Valley Bank, of West Bend, closed a week ago because of a shortage in the accounts of Cashier J. Lee Norman, when the grand jury returned true bills against R. B. Horne, prominent business man of Winston-Salem, charging him with aiding and abetting Cashier Norman in the embezzlement of the funds of the bank and in making false entries on the books of the bank.

A $5,000 bond is required of Horne and the bond of Cashier Norman is fixed at $3,000. Mr. Horne is a Yadkin county man and was for quite a while connected with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., at Winston-Salem, and established an extensive candy manufacturing business at Winston-Salem, that he recently set about moving to Lynchburg, Va., on account of freight rate advantages there for his business. He is quite an active churchman, a pillar in Brown Memorial Baptist church, of the Twin City and his friends there insist that he will be able to clear himself of the charges now being made against him, which are principally that he and Cashier Norman "kited" checks and resorted to various means of using the funds and credit of the bank for the furtherance of their personal interests.

Among other things, a letter from Mr. Horne to Cashier Norman was found among the papers of the bank inclosed a check signed in blank with instructions to the cashier to fill it in for any sum needed to the extent of $10,000 in the event he should have a "visitor," meaning, the authorities claim, in the event a bank examiner came along and the condition of the bank needed that much to satisfy the examiner as to its sound condition.

Charters are issued for the Wilson Drug Co., of Wilson, N. C., capital $25,000 authorized and $6,500 subscribed by W. M. Anderson and others; the Wayco Manufacturing Co., of Lincolnton capital $25,000 authorized and $2,000 subscribed, for making beds for invalids; the People's Bank, of Pilot Mountain, capital $50,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by C. D. Fawcette and others, and the Carolina Farmer, Raleigh, capital $50,000 authorized and $1,200 subscribed by C. A. Sury and others for publishing a farmers' paper at Raleigh.

Judge T. J. Shaw is commissioned by Governor Craig to hold a special term of court in Swain county, one week, beginning September 29th, for the trial of civil causes.

THE "BOTTOMLESS POOL."

Hole in Greene County More Than 2,000 Feet Deep.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 20.—Yesterday a pound of lead at the end of 2,000 feet of stout cord was dropped into the waters of a pool near Hookerton, in Greene county, which has for many years been a subject for curiosity on the part of the people of the whole county because of its unknown depth.

The line was unreeled to the last inch and hung perfectly taut. The Bottomless Hole, as it is locally known, has existed for generations, but no one has ever been able to find its bottom. Not more than a hundred yards from the banks of Moccasin river, it was once thought that a subterranean stream supplied the pool from the river, but this theory was disproved when somebody called attention to the fact that the water in it does not rise at the times when the river is much higher than its normal stage with heavy freshets.

The hole is about 35 feet in diameter, and not a living thing exists in or about it. The water, which is of light blue color, is clear for a great distance down. Experiments are said to have been made with fish in the bottomless Hole, but these invariably died in a short time and rose to the surface.

A number of traditions of Indian times exist concerning the pool one of which is that it bears a speel put upon it by a medicine man when a chief who had been his patron was drowned there. The attempt yesterday to ascertain the hole's depth was not the first by any means, but more pains were taken and the sounding line was longer than at any previous effort.

WHITEVILLE WATER AND LIGHTS

Town Discussing Plans to Put in New Plant and Complete System.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Aug. 20.—The town commissioners are now considering plans suggested by the McCrary Company, of Atlanta, for putting in a water and light system. The plant will have to be paid for by issuing bonds and this is up to the taxpayers to say by their votes, what they want.

Saturday Justices Maxwell and Phillips, sitting "en bank", held court at the Temple of Justice. The case of Mr. Baxley, special agent for the Mutual Benefit, against Mr. Gore, to whom policies had been issued, payable, as the defendant claimed, if he had a profitable strawberry crop, was decided in favor of Mr. Baxley, and Mr. Gore appealed to Superior Court.

Miss Burkhead, stenographer for the attorney general, has returned to Raleigh after spending her Summer vacation.——Friends of our genial poet, Prof. Stockard, of Peace Institute, were pleased to see him here last week. Peace cannot accommodate all the young ladies making application for the rooms are all now about taken.

The school has lost a teacher in the music department through the marriage of Miss DuMois to Dr. Kornegay, of Rocky Mount. At a meeting of the school board, Miss Baxter, of Durham, was appointed instructor in music. She has had charge of the music department at Graham for two years, and afterward took a course in the Durham Conservatory, receiving a diploma this year. Following are the other teachers chosen for the year: Mr. C. R. Spencer, superintendent; Mr. O. B. Darden, principal; Miss Webster, Miss Fleming, Miss Howell, Mrs. Powell, Miss Mosely, Miss Memory, Miss Highsmith and Miss Dowell.——Forces are at work putting the school buildings and grounds in condition for the opening September 8th.

When Attorney Schulken let off the water in his pond situated eight miles from town, the occasion was well advertised and about 300 people with gigs and nets were present. Unfortunately so much water was coming from upstream that the fish could not be confined to the run.

The sweet potato crop bids fair to be immense. Columbus county's sandy loam can yield enough of the succulent tubers to feed Pittsburg for a season.

No slit skirts or anything akin to 'em are seen on our boulevards, nor does the bunny hug, tango or turkey trot appear in these parts, as far as the writer knows, but there are rumors of a crusade against the blind tigers, which are wide awake.

PAWN BROKERS' SLUSH FUND.

Witness Tells House Probe About Funds Raised in Washington.

Washington, Aug. 20.—George D. Horning, a Washington pawn broker, told the House lobby committee today the total slush fund raised to defeat the Federal loan shark bill was nearly $12,000. Three pawn brokers put in $2,750, and he raised $8,000 from men in the chattel mortgage business in and out of Washington. About $5,500 of the $8,000 was unspent. The $8,000 was kept separate from the brokers' fund and both were raised in 1911 and 1912. Representative McDermott, of Illinois, is alleged to have arranged to get $7,500 to work against the bill.

Horning testified that Henry E. Davis, a Washington attorney, got $2 000 from each fund. Davis arranged a hearing for the brokers before President Taft. Mr. Taft signed the bill, however. Horning also testified one contribution of $2,000 came from a man named Watt, of Philadelphia, and a similar amount from a Mr. Walsh, of Chicago. Horning declared he did not have to win McDermott over to oppose the bill. "He was a card man. He had an honorary membership in a union and the unions were opposed to putting the pawn brokers in the bill," said Horning.

Horning denied that any of the $12,000 had been spent in an improper way and said that the balance, more than $5,000, still in his private safe, would be used in testing the bill in the courts or in trying to have another measure agreeable to the brokers introduced in Congress.

It was Horning who I. C. McMichael, one time chief page of the House swore made an arrangement for Representative James J. McDermott whereby McDermott was to get $7,500 for working against the loan bill. Horning denied that he had ever given McDermott any money.

The committee held a night session with Horning still on the stand. The witness told of paying $500 to Patrick Ryan, a labor union attorney, and $250 to a man named Snelling, connected with the local central labor union, for work done in Congressional elections.

He said the men did not want to take the money but that he gave it as a present because they had been working for the re-election of men the pawn brokers wanted to see returned to Congress. Questioned by members of the committee, he said he had paid $300 or $400 for hotel an dtraveling expenses for Ryan and Snelling.

GOOD ROAD WORKERS.

Engaged in "Pulling Missouri Out of the Mud."

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 20.—With blistered hands and sore muscles 50,000 enthusiastic good road workers, quit their work tonight in Missouri after a strenuous day spent in "pulling Missouri out of the mud".

Good humor was everywhere in evidence, and nearly every man declared he intended to return tomorrow.

Although mud interfered with the work of Governor Elliott W. Major and Governor George H. Hodges, of Kansas, who had volunteered to help the Missouri executives, both Governors declared they would be up early tomorrow and would make up for lost time.

"It has been one of the great days of my life," said Governor Major. "As a boy I traveled over nothing but bad roads. I made up my mind then if I ever got a chance I would do all I could for better roadways. The Governor of Arkansas has advised me he has set aside September 2nd and 3rd for road work, and I am happy at the results.

"I intend to fix two roadways when I return home," said Governor Hodges. "It is remarkable how many have responded to Governor Major's proclamation."

Reports from every county in this part of the State told of throngs of workers, many of them encouraged by the presence of their wives and daughters, who served dinner.

In St. Louis county the response to the Governor's call was slight, as the county is well supplied with rock roads, maintained by a heavy tax. Business men of St. Louis, however, contributed liberally to a fund with which to buy road grading machinery for the rural parts of the State.

The response to the Governor's call throughout the rural region was liberal. In Cape Girardeau county 2,500 men worked on the roads, and every district was thoroughly organized. About 400 men left Hannibal to work on the highways near that town. All city prisoners were put on the work.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Severe Case of a Philadelphia Woman—Her Symptoms.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the heart, constipation, headaches, dizziness, noise in my ears, timid, nervous, restless feelings and sleeplessness.

"I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I threw away the medicines the doctor left me and began taking the Compound. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it in every household I have visited."—Mrs. MARY JOHNSTON, 210 Siegel Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Bad Case.

Ephrata, Pa.—"About a year ago I was down with nervous prostration. I was pale and weak and would have hysteric spells, sick headaches and a bad pain under my shoulder-blade. I was under the care of different doctors but did not improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand long enough to do my dishes.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me well and happy and I have begun to gain in weight and my face looks healthy now."—Mrs. J. W. HORNBERGER, R. No. 3, Ephrata, Pa.

Two Kinston Men Arraigned for Alleged Accidental Shooting.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 20.—James Underhill and Joseph Tisdale, the latter of Newbern, will go on trial in Superior Court here tomorrow morning for the murder of Carlisle Heath several weeks ago. The case has excited more interest than any tried here in years. Heath, the son of a prominent man of East Kinston, was shot at Shine and Heritage streets at 11 P. M. Underhill admitted having fired several shots about that time and in the same neighborhood, but did not know if he fired the shot which struck Heath. The grand jury presented an indictment for first degree murder and Underhill and Tisdale, who were together on the night of the shooting, were arraigned yesterday.

Some men learn to drink like fish after they get in the swim.

A man may get away, but it is mighty hard for him to escape.

Bet you took cold enduring of the October weather we've been enjoying the last few days.

Facing a choice between Sulzer and Murphy there is nothing for New York to do but not to choose Murphy.

Walt Mason tells us to "be modest." Of course, it is mighty nice, but most of the time it keeps a fellow from getting the best seat.

Yellow leaf tobacco is now causing the usual mid-Summer redistribution of wealth in Eastern Carolina, so noted for its riot of cash crops.

The capture of Harry Thaw is news but it was the expected that happened so quick that it is disappointing. Thaw didn't so much as lead them a chase.

Harry Thaw's escape and recapture in three days indicates that a fellow is crazy if he thinks he can go very far in an automobile without getting caught.

A Los Angeles mother ran away from home because she felt disgraced when her daughter married a Japanese. The usual rule is to make the daughter go.

It is now said there are a few marplots at Washington. Probably so, but there are not so many pernicious lobbyists as there used to be. Why not fire the marplots?

Says the Columbia State: "A South Dakota man with $100,000 is coming east to purchase a wife." That's a lot of plunks, but we know of no North Carolinian who would think of selling his wife.

Through trains are now run from St. Louis to San Francisco. That makes New York want through trains across the continent. New York seems to want everything that any other town has.

The best way for men to keep women out of politics is to quit making politics rotten. One of the main reasons urged in behalf of the ballot for women is that it will prevent politics from getting beyond redemption.

President Wilson's course with reference to Mexico is winning the support of all citizens, irrespective of party. If there is war, we hope the jingoes lead the assault in the first battle, and thereafter we may have peace.

Wilson's way seems to be the accepted way in both Houses at Washington. For a man with a quiet, steady grip the President seems to hold the record. On Tuesday the Senate adhered to his plan for free sugar in 1916.

Two revolutionary generals were killed in the first battle between troops of Castro and the government troops in Venezuela. Probably Castro has promoted all the privates, in which event it would be impossible to miss a general.

The Houston Post says Texas legislators complain that the newspapers have quit praising them. Does it indicate more discretion on the part of the newspapers or that the average legislator has quit being "a prince of good fellows"?

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE PICNIC.

The farmers' institute picnic seems to be a good thing. It gives a chance for the farmers and their families to have a day of recreation and pleasure, while giving institute speakers a chance to say something to the farmers. It is all right, provided the speakers really have something to say and do not take all day to say something that is hardly worth saying.

However, farmers' institutes, as they are being held in North Carolina, are both inteersting and profitable, for they are conducted for an object and that object deeply concerns the farmers of North Carolina. To get the farmers to attend these institutes as a duty and as a demonstration of progress is the one desirable thing, but if they won't do it, then make the affair the biggest kind of a picnic.

One of these picnics was held in Iredell county a few days ago at the State test farm, near Statesville. Farmers from Iredell and other counties attended in large numbers and an account of it says this "farmers' institute and picnic is an annual event, which always means the assembling of a great throng for both pleasure and profit." We are pretty well assured that the profit was there, for Capt. T. B. Parker, State director of farmers' institutes, spoke both in the forenoon and the afternoon. Capt. Parker's subject was on soil improvement, which he handled as an expert. A farmer has to get right on the soil proposition before he can farm, and it is a fortunate farmer who can get a chance to hear Capt. Parker speak as an expert on that subject.

Agriculture must be progressive in Iredell, for some of the audience told Capt. Parker that there are farmers in Iredell who make more than 100 bushels of corn to the acre, and more than a bale of cotton per acre. That is doing pretty well, but what is the average farmer doing? Is he trying to do like those who make 100 bushels of corn and produce a bale of cotton per acre? When the average farmer begins to do that, North Carolina will become the greatest producing State in America.

After learning of wnat some of the progressive farmers of Iredell were doing, Capt. Parker said he realized that Iredell was above the average in farming operations, but he was sure he could find many farmers who cultivate land that does not produce five bushels of corn or 250 pounds of seed cotton to the acre. He said: "The difference is in the farmer and the soil." Well, it is the farmer who makes the soil which makes a bale of cotton or 100 bushels of corn to the acre. Every farmer who knows something of soil restoration soil building and soil maintenance is a good demonstrator in his county, and if the farmers' institutes help to make a demonstrator like that in every county in the State it will be of incalculable benefit to North Carolina as a progressive agricultural State.

The gathering at the Iredell picnic was also addressed by Dr. B. W. Kilgore, State chemist and director of State farms. He is another expert and his subject was vitally important to the farmers. It was on 'Economical Crop Production." Another one of the speakers was Mrs. Charles McKimmon, of Raleigh, who is at the head of the girls' tomato clubs of the State. She led the ladies' meetings and her talks were commented on for their great worth. We are glad that publicity was given to that Iredell meeting. A correspondent who was there write it up and we take this from what he said:

"In the afternoon Mr. Parker simply added to the discussion of soil improvement and called on E. S. Millsapps, government co-operative demonstration agent, for a talk. Mr. Millsaps also urged soil improvement, and told of what has been accomplished by some farmers. Mr. Millsaps is also convinced that live stock raising and hay growing are now profitable in this section. It is estimated that $16,000,000 worth of hay was shipped into North Carolina last year."

We can produce more than twenty-one forage crops in North Carolina, and a State that can do it ought to sell $25,000,000 worth of hay a year instead of buying a bale. It also ought to make this the greatest cattle raising and dairying State in the Union.

WANTS FOREIGN MEAT.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce says Representative Kinkhead, of New Jersey is anxious to open the doors to foreign meats in order that the beef trust will have an actual competitor, in the eastern markets at least. The New Jersey Congressmen visited the Department of Agriculture on Monday relative to the regulations imposed on imported meats. They have to run the gauntlet of our meat inspection laws and maybe they'll now say that the trust had that inspection law passed while making a pretense of fighting it a few years ago. Nevertheless, it is supposed to be for the protection of consumers of meats and it can hardly be expected that foreign meats shall be allowed to come in under less rigid inspection. The New Jersey Congressman is desirous that the regulations regarding the importation of beef from Argentina, Canada and Australia be amended so as to put no obstacle in the way of such importation.

If they are necessary, the regulations should be carried out. If they are not necessary they should be repealed. The public however, will feel safer with rigid inspection of all the meat it is expected to consume. As a matter of truth, however, we need not depend upon relief from imported meats till we are prepared to import them. We will be compelled to have great refrigeration warehouses on the water front of our ports, and that is what we haven't got, even in New York. Without such warehouses we need not expect importations to amount to much, even if there are really any extensive sources of supply.

While all this high priced meat is in prospect for years to come, now is the South's time to go into the cattle raising industry. The South is the one part of the country that can prevent a meat famine of greater proportions in the future.

AN EDITOR'S FIGHT.

Editors are always making a "fight" for their State, their county and their town, but it can be said that editors frequently have to do all their fighting alone. It wouldn't be so hard for editors if somebody would help them, but most of the help they get is from people who manage to help them put their foot in it, if they don't watch out.

The Greenville Reflector reminds us of what an editor will do for his community when about everybody in it is about willing to throw it down. This is the pathetic story as it comes from the News:

"A young man, an editor of a little country weekly in Bakersville, a town situated near the crest of the Blue Ridge mountins is now making a brave fight among his people. A movement has been started there to surrendering the charter of the town rather than pay a few dollars in taxes. The editor is fighting with all his might against the move, and so vicious has the thing come to be that he has been threatened with bodily harm because of his efforts. But the people of Bakersville, or at least the better element of them, will stick to this brave fellow, and will hold up his hands in the fight that he is making almost single handed. The town will not, as we believe, surrender its charter, but one day it will raise a marble shaft over the grave of this brave man, who have fought for the life of his adopted town, and who, as much as any one else, will in the end be the one to whom credit shall be due or bringing it through the crisis."

The Bakersville editor is in a far-away mountain town which is of little consequence at present. He sees its possibilities and is making a fight to keep the town from falling down on itself. He is only "an adopted son," but he is there to fight. The Star hopes he will win.

What Bakersville needs is more adopte dsons. Instead of having funerals for the good of a town it is better to get some live men from somewhere else. But this not to be construed as advocating a cessation of the funerals mentioned.

A headline in the New York World says "Nicaraguans don't Kick Against Protectorate." Why should they, when a Nicaragua dispatch says: "Martial law is being rigidly enforced in Nicaragua and the Diaz administration has established a strct censorship over all criticism of the government's acts." The people, doubtless, would have more liberty under a protectorate by Uncle Sam, but the probability is that it is not liberty but license that they want.

The Associated Press dispatches yesterday morning announced that an Indianapolis man had been shot to death, but no motive for the crime had been discovered by the police. It is not even known what possible "excuse" the murderer could give if the police should happen to catch him, but we take it that "insanity" would be the plea.

Highway jobbery seems to have taken the place of highway robbery in New York State. Graft and fraud have crept into the State Highways Department and it has developed that political influence operates in awarding contracts for building good roads. That is what might be expected when good roads get into politics.

In opposing the bill for recasting our currency system, Representative Calloway declared his intention to offer a substitute of his own "based on the system used in Scotland for 217 years, and Canada for a shorter time, without a panic." The originality in Calloway's financial idea is conspicuous on account of its absence.

The St. Louis Times looks a few weeks ahead to say that the next month has an "R" in it. This shows how eagerly the oyster season is always anticipated in the interior. On the seacoast we have oyster roasts in July. The bivalves are nice when taken from water deep enough to keep them cool.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Observer was not at all enthusiastic over the absorption of the North Carolina Good Roads Association by the National Highway Association with headquarters at South Yarmouth, Mass. That association promptly sent out circular letters proclaiming that the North Carolina organization has become a division of the Massachusetts concern. This movement toward gatering State organizations was recently begun. The Ohio association went in first. This was followed by North Carolina and since has followed a newly organized Pennsylvania association. The Engineering Record is inclined to be wary of this Massachusetts association. That paper thinks tha teven if the plans of this National association for Federal roads across the continent weer sound and practicable "there would still be many reasons why the independence of State organizations and their freedom to perform the work that is peculiarly their own should not be jeopardized by affiliation with a National body with which they can have little or nothing in common. When there is the added danger that such an affiliation and surrender of independence will carry with it committal to an extravagant program of Federal road building, it may perhaps seem wise to resist even the offer by the National Highway Association to pay salaries and rent offices for State associations which are willing to become its divisions.—Charlotte Observer.

"WILMINGTON VS. STATE."

Communication to the Charlotte Observer Subject of Rates.

Following is a copy of a communication sent by Mr. J. Gilchrist McCormick to the Charlotte Observer for publication today:

To the Editor of the Charlotte Observer:

Your editorial of August 16th, entitled "Wilmington vs. State," contains certain statements which many of us in Wilmington would regret to have the State accept in their entirety without explanation or qualification. The Observer's well known fairness to Wilmington leads us to believe that it would be more than willing to set those of us who do not worship at the Atlantic Coast Line shrine, right with the people of the State. We appreciate the full force of what The Observer has stated and accept The Observer as a believer in the proverb that "our best friends are those who tell us of our faults and help us to mend them," but, however much we may recognize the force of what you have written, we cannot subscribe to the correctness of your statements in their entirety.

Believing that you will welcome any additional information on the subject, I should like to present the situation as to the fight for Just Freight Rates, as those who are untramelled with any Coast Line affiliations see it.

So far as the Just Freight Rate Association here is concerned, there is nothing in its attitude which warrants the statement that Wilmington will play a "separate hand"—unless it should have been the result of the remarks of Mr. J. A. Taylor, who is president of the association here—in Raleigh. I have been with Mr. Taylor on all of his visits to Raleigh in connection with the matter and have heard all that he said. His remarks do not warrant any such interpretation, and even if they did, none such was intended. He called attention to the fact that there must be a recognition of traffic principles and conditions in inter-State rate making and our inability to ignore them as such, try as we may. It is not worth while, for instance, to blind our eyes to the fact that while it may sound well to say that in certain specific instances, the Southern railway charges Greensboro more for lesser service than it does Lynchburg, Va., for a greater service, yet if the Southern railway did not haul a pound of the freight referred to, Lynchburg would have the same rate without affecting Greensboro, this statement does not therefore constitute any argument from an inter-State freight rate standpoint.

But, this is aside from what I had started out to state. We, here in Wilmington, fully realize the power the Atlantic Coast Line is in our midst, and those of us whose business existence is linked with the question of freight rates are perhaps a trifle better able to appreciate it than those somewhat further removed from it. We do not, therefore, give our assent to the charge that Wilmington as a whole is in the slightest measure beholden to the Coast Line for its daily bread.

When the New Hanover Just Freight Rate Association was formed, Mr. Taylor was elected president, the writer vice president, and Mr. Isadore Bear, secretary-treasurer, and these with Capt. James I. Metts, Messrs. L. Bluethenthal, M. W. Jacobi and John S. McEachern, constitute the executive committee. Its membership represents all the leading mercantile and industrial concerns of the city, all of whom have taken an active and intelligent interest in the work. So far as the personnel of this organization is concerned, the charge of "Coast Line domination" is not only not well founded, but no fair-minded man familiar with the facts would give it the smallest consideration. On your next visit to Wilmington, we hope you may have an opportunity to "mix with this crowd."

We recognize the fact that the fight for just freight rates is a State-wide one, which must be made by the entire State with a fixed determination to obtain justice for all. It should not and must not be settled until all sections have had relief.

In this connection I call your attention to the fact that in 1899 Wilmington, unassisted and at her own expense, presented the matter of unfair and discriminatory rates to the Inter-State Commerce Commission. In his speech in Raleigh, Mr. Taylor called attention this case and its bearing upon the present freight rate situation.

He also adverted to the fact that when inter-State rates are considered as such, there must be a recognition of settled traffic principles. This is true to an extent, even so far as intra-State rates are concerned. The high out-going within the State rates from Wilmington, to which The Observer refers, are made by our State Corporation Commission. While many of them are too high, their regulation is entirely within the hands of the State Commission, and are no higher, but the same, as prevail from Charlotte, Greensboro, and other North Carolina towns.

It is quite natural and entirely correct that we should not agree with you as to water and its effect upon freight rates, as well as to its resultant benefit to the entire State. Water transportation is not a myth so far as Norfolk is concerned, either as to actual service or as practically the determining factor in rate making. Is there any reason why this should not be true in our State? An examination of conditions will disclose that with but few rare exceptions, all great commerce has come through water and freight rates based upon water competition. The cotton which has come through Wilmington, comes because it is a port, and the large and constantly increasing shipments of fertilizers and fertilizer materials into the interior from Wilmngton, are for the same reason. This was likewise true when Wilmington stood pre-eminent in naval stores. The same water which hauled those will haul more if the State will stand with us to redeem us from the "over lordship of the Atlantic Coast Line." As a basis for all proper rate-making, there should be a first cause. Mr. Taylor was correct when he stated in Raleigh that it could be found in the water at Wilmington. If Wilmington is made, as it can be and should be North Carolina's gateway, every part of the State will share in the benefits.

Wilmington is more than willing to do its part. It stands with the rest of the State in the fight. If a solid front is not presented, it will not be the fault of Wilmington. So far as the other Eastern North Carolina towns are concerned, The Observer has spoken unadvisedly in regard to our attitude as to them or theirs to us. This will later speak for itself.

We fully recognize the importance of the fight, and while we may have differed as to some non-essentials, when it comes to that which is material, Wilmington will be found lined up squarely with the rest of the State.

We have not always been admitted to the "innermost councils". Information as to how we thought and would act has not always some first hand. However, we expect to have no further cause for complaint in this respect. As a member of the conference committee, we are to have Mr. J. A. Taylor. No man in the State knows better how to fight the railroads, including the "Coast Line community of interests," than Mr. Taylor does. Some of the propositions now being advanced for the first time are old to him. They have been treated in his annual reports as president of our Chamber of Commerce. He is entitled to the credit for our new union passenger station. He has labored in season and out for the material advancement of Wilmington and the Cape Fear section.

Mr. Taylor has frequently stated in addressing the Chamber of Commerce that it were better for Wilmington that the Atlantic Coast Line should remove its general offices, part and parcel, from Wilmington rather than that we should sell our birthright for a mess of pottage. I will add by way of parenthesis, that Mr. Taylor is not entirely alone in this belief.

He is largely responsible for the passage of the resolution in regard to the sale of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroad. If this is taken up as it should be, the results will be far-reaching and of great benefit to the State.

If the Governor has as his conferees nine other men equally as capable, the fight will soon be one of successful accomplishment.

While we have had but a few small skirmishes, as yet, the full import of which the railroads have apparently failed to grasp, yet when the smoke of battle has finally cleared away, Wilmington will have been found in the thickest of the fray.

A word as to the "gum shoeing and malingering," this must have been far back in the past, but it would be interesting to many, and appreciated by those of us who have no sympathy with such methods, if you would name your man.

REPLYING TO "CITIZEN."

To the Editor of The Star:

I read with disgust the article entitled "Modern Fashions Arraigned" and think our friend "Citizen" must have an awful hard position when he can stand (ought to have a chair) around on street corners and watch whether the ladies are properly clad or not.

Our friend mentions "Southern chivalry" that forbade a man gazing into a woman's face as she passed, and then acknowledges that he stood on the corner of Front and Princess street, and noticed every white lady's dress.

Looks like to me that if a man's or boy's brain is so shallow that he is apt to become demoralized by noticing ladies' wearing apparel he should be examined by the State authorities and put under their care for a time as he is subject to "degeneracy."

Our friend must have been around some to know so much about the "turkey trot," "bunny hug," "tango" and last, but not least, the "hootchy-cootchy." I am going to New York in a few weeks and would like to be wised up a little before starting.

I have been in the city of Wilmington off and on for the last six months and can honestly state that from my point of view the standard of morality is very high. NEW JERSEYITE.
Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 20, 1913.

To the Editor of The Star:

In your issue of August 20th, under the heading "Modern Fashions Arraigned," "Citizen" appeals for the "protection of the boys against indecent dressing by many of the women of Wilmington," and says he does not know "why the chief of police has not already taken action against this immoral dressing."

Why, the chief is "one of the boys", and would come in for a share of the protection if it were needed. And besides, "Citizen" has made no personal appeal to the police. His time has been taken up standing in the center of the business district, ogling and "looking them over". He knows their apparel by day and also by night. Neither has he overlooked the colored women whom he commends for a more lady-like manner.

I am not sure that "Citizen's" time has been entirely wasted. Though, if he continues to occupy himself thus, he may require some of the protection he invokes for himself.

The Independent Ice Company

Wishes to remind the users of Ice that several years ago, when we were the only manufacturers and distributors of Ice in and around Wilmington that we did not attempt to put up the price, but maintained the same old schedule that had been in force years before, although we had every opportunity to name any list of prices we saw fit. This is a cold-blooded fact, as cold and clear as any ice ever made in Wilmington, and is well worth public consideration, for the average Ice Maker would have without any hesitation put up the price, but that has never been the Independent Ice Company's way of doing business.

Two years, or more, ago, we were largely instrumental, through the medium of The Central Ice Company, of which we were large owners, of having a Special Ice Train put on at 6:00 A. M., to serve the Trolley Line patrons, at city prices.

For these considerations, we are not posing as public benefactors. They were simply good business moves, as we saw them. As for ice by other Beach trains than 6:00 A. M., the prices now in effect are the same that have prevailed for years past.

We wish to further remind the public of the superior services, and the full weight deliveries they have this season, the lack of which conditions caused such widespread complaints the past two years, when we were not directly engaged in the city delivery of ice.

That our ice and our services are appreciated is attested by the fact that our sales are 25 % or more greater this Summer than ever before.

COUNCIL'S REGULAR SESSION

Many Matters of More or Less Interest Considered by Board Yesterday—Water Main to Winoca Terrace.

A number of matters of more or less interest and importance, aside from the health questions, came up for consideration at the regular meeting of the City Council yesterday morning. Mayor Moore presided with all members in attendance; also Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, and City Attorney E. K. Bryan, whom members of the board were glad to see out again after being confined to his cottage on the beach for two weeks on account of illness.

The first matter was the report of the city clerk and treasurer of the one bid received for the fire station property at Sixth and Castle streets, this coming from Stewart & Otersen, who offered $5,005. Councilman Jones said he thought at least $6,000 could be secured for the property and moved that it be re-advertised. The motion carried. The Mayor stated that it was all right to receive bids in this way, but that the property would have to be sold at public auction when it is disposed of.

A communication was received from City Engineer Pillett advising the Council that the contractors had raised the point that the agreement with the city was that at least $100,000 was to be expended on the extension of the sewerage system at the present time. The city engineer stated that if this is so the city will have to raise $5,000 or $6,000 more than is now in the fund for this amount had been used for work in connection with the plant not done by the contracting firm. The city engineer also stated that $75,000 more would complete the extensions to the sewerage system as originally planned by him and that fully 90 per cent of this is as important as that which is completed. Councilman Merritt said that if the sewerage system is completed the Council could discharge the health department, as the scavenging work is about all that the department seems to be giving attention at this time. The question of providing funds for completing the extension to the plant will be taken up at a later meeting.

Mr. Martin O'Brien was present to complain of overcharges on water bills of some of his tenants, mentioning specifically one of his tenants, a boarding house keeper, on Front street, having had to pay $14.50 for water for the past six months. Mr. O'Brien said that the people had found out that water is more expensive now than under private ownership. The matter was referred to the Water and Sewerage Department.

A request of Mr. Glisson to erect a wooden building on Fourth street, between Bladen and Harnett, for a barbecue and huckster stand, was referred to the chief of the fire department, who is also building inspector.

At the request of Mr. Chas. C. Chadbourn, president of the Fidelity Investment & Development Co., $200 was appropriated for advertising purposes. It was explained that the company plans to take motion pictures of scenes of Sunset Park, Wilmington and the surrounding country, which are to be shown all over North and South Carolina and in the North. Mr. C. E. Greenamyer, of the company, and another representative will give lectures on the advantages of Wilmington at the time the pictures are shown. Mr. Chadbourn asked that in view of the splendid advertising the city will get out of the proposition that the Council make an appropriation of $200 to help defray the expenses of making the pictures. The appropriation was readily granted.

Councilman Chadwack, in pointing out the benefits to be derived from the campaign planned by the company, of which he is secretary and treasurer, stated that if only one manufacturing plant were brought here as the result of the advertising that Wilmington would be more than repaid for the $200 expended by the Council.

"Yes," said Councilman Loughlin, who did not oppose the appropriation, "but if we get manufacturing enterprises here the Atlantic Coast Line will not give them a siding."

"And we ought to get the Southern Power Company to come in here, too," commented Councilman Wood.

Following request made by Mr. R. H. Northrop the Council ordered that the Water and Sewerage Department lay a water main to Winoca Terrace, on 15th street, from Market to Rankin, to cost about $1,200. Councilman Wood reported that there was ample funds in the treasury to pay for the work. It was stated by Mr. Northrop that already there are nine houses at Winoca Terrace desiring water connections and others will be built as soon as the water main is extended.

Supt. of Streets McAlister made a statement with reference to the interview given out about two weeks ago street department had refused to re street department had refused o remove watermelon rinds. He said that he had never received from Dr. Nesbitt or any one connected with the health department any request that his department remove watermelon rinds from the streets. He said that he had not answered the statement of Dr. Nesbitt for three reasons: First, he did not have time; second, he did not care to get mixed up in a newspaper controversy; third, he had the interest of the city at heart and did not want to give it unfavorable advertising during the firemen's tournament. Still another reason, he said, was the fact that he did not have an office force for this purpose. His department, he said, had hauled 261 loads of trash to the incinerator against 21 loads handled by the health department the week before Dr. Nesbitt's interview. Mr. McAlister said that he had nine teams in the street department and that there were five teams in the health department. Members of Council told Mr. McAlister that he had been doing fine work and complimented him very highly upon the showing made.

The matter of renting fish benches at the Front street market house until the regular renting period begins, October 1st, was left in the hands of Councilman Loughlin with power to act.

Upon motion of Councilman Jones the Council voted to give Fire Chief Chas. Schnibben a vacation in September and pay his expenses to the annual meeting of the National Fire Chiefs' Association, which will be held in New York.

There was some discussion relative to a proposed change in the sign ordinance, so as to permit the erection of wooden signs as well as those illuminated by electricity where permission is granted by the Council, but action was deferred until the next meeting. Meanwhile the chief of police is to ignore the sign ordinance, it was decided by Council. Mr. J. M. Solky was present and spoke in behalf of the proposition to allow wooden signs. Councilman Wood was opposed to the ordinance requiring all signs in a given territory to be illuminated partly on the ground that it would only add to the wealth of the Tidewater Power Company.

Councilman Merritt renewed his request for another car of road oil to place on the macadamized streets, saying that he had received a letter from the Standard Oil Company agreeing to credit the city for a car for six or eight months. Action was deferred.

Samples of sand picked up near Wilmington were exhibited in the Council chamber and Councilman Wood said that hereafter when sand is needed for the filter plant it will not be necessary to go outside of the city for it. He said that he had been informed that some of the sand which is sold in Norfolk and other points is gathered down this way.

The communication from Mr. W. N. Royall, general manager of the Atlantic Coast Line, asking that the city pave Front street, from Red Cross to the concourse over the railroad tracks, a distance of not quite a block, was read, but action was deferred. Mr. Royall suggested that the Tidewater Power Co's spur track on Front street be removed to Red cross street.

Mr. J. D. Lowry, the expert well man, was before Council by request and submitted a bid of $300 for drilling a well, standard size, on the city property in the northeastern part of the city. The matter was not acted upon yesterday, but will be taken up again later. Members of Council remarked that the wells drilled for the city by Mr. Lowry were the only ones that had given entire satisfaction.

BEER NOT NECESSARY.

Wrightsville Beach Crowded With Visitors—Morehead City Closed.

"The Summer hotels at Morehead City closed on August 15th and I see that the Wrightsville Beach hotels are still crowded with visitors which I think is a complete refutation of the statement that beer is necessary in order for Summer hotels to prosper," stated a gentleman from Morehead City yesterday, who is attending the State convention of the Junior Order. "I remember," he continued, "that when such a great hue and cry was being made by the Wrightsville hotels over the fact that they had been practically crushed because of a lack of beer that Morehead was 'crowing' over her prosperity due,' so it was said, to its reputation for being a wide open place.

"Being acquainted with the manager of one of the Wrightsville hotels, I told him yesterday that I was practically sure that he had had a larger number of visitors this Summer owing to the fact that no beer is being sold on the beach than he would have had if it had been sold. I know that there are hundreds of people in North Carolina, and I am sure that there are just as many in South Carolina and Georgia, who would a great deal, rather patronize a hotel where beer is not sold than one where it is.

"It is my observation that prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors never hurts any business except the business of the fellow who is selling it. I believe that the hotels at Wrightsville Beach have larger crowds than they would have if they had beer. I visited the beach three years ago when it was 'wide open,' and I know from observation that conditions are a great deal better than they were at that time. I believe that this one thing will help more than anything else to make it the most popular beach on the South Atlantic coast."

POLICEMAN ON THE JOB.

Held Up Coffin Because He Thought It Contained Liquor.

Wilmington policemen can be depended on when it comes to running down "blind tigers". The ways of disposing of liquor are various and devious and a new way of disposing of it is discovered every day. Yesterday John Mack, a colored man, who lives in the country, came to Wilmington to buy a coffin for an infant child who died Tuesday night. He purchased the coffin from a local undertaker and started home. When he reached 17th and Market streets he was accosted by one of the city policemen who demanded the privilege of examining the coffin.

He thought that it might be another way of carrying booze around. Mack explained that the coffin was for his dead child. He was then requested to show his permit for burying the child, and having none he had to return to the city, and get his physician to make out a death certificate. While he had not violated the prohibition law he had unwittingly violated one of the State health laws which requires that before a dead person can be buried a death certificate must be made out, filed with the health department and a burial permit issued.

This law went into effect July 1st, but it is stated that there are a great many people who do not yet know that there is such a law.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Changes in Judgments in Whiskey Cases—Only Two Cases Tried.

Charlie Woebse, the young white man, who on Tuesday was convicted by Substitute Recorder Harriss of violating the prohibition law and sentenced to serve six months on the roads, later withdrawing his appeal to Superior Court and final judgment then being left open until yesterday morning, was yesterday fined $50 and costs and allowed to enter a nolo contendere in another case, in which he was placed under a bond of $500 for his appearance before the Recorder the first Tuesday in each month for 12 months and show that he has been of good behavior. Louis J. Poisson, Esq., who is acting county solicitor, protested against this disposition of the case, but Acting Recorder Harriss was unmoved in his decision in the matter.

The sentence of Sam Starkey, colored, who was found guilty of selling whiskey Monday and sentenced to serve three months on the roads, was changed and judgment suspended upon payment of a fine of $50 and the costs. He will have to report once a month as to his good behavior.

Hattie Moore, colored, charged with violating the prohibition law, was found not guilty and discharged. Samuel Beatty, colored, was found guilty of vagrancy and sentenced to serve 30 days on the roads.

JOINT CONFERENCE HELD

Health Department Will Continue Removal of Slops and Carrion Until September 1st—City Pays the Bill.

As a result of a joint conference between the County Board of Health and the City Council yesterday at noon an agreement was reached by whith the health department will continue the removal of garbage and carrion from the premises and streets of the city until September 1st, at which time the Council will notify the health body whether or not it will take over teh entire sanitary work in the city, including the scavenging, which the Board of Health consented to in a final effort to end the controversy that has been going on between the two bodies.

The health department in accordance with a resolution adopted by the County Board of Health last Friday night, at noon Monday served notice on the city that beginning yesterday it would discontinue the removal of slops and carrion, and late Tuesday afternoon the teams, four in number, belonging to the city and used by the health department for this purpose for the past two or three months, were taken to the city stables. In the northeastern part of the city, to be turned over to the Department of Streets and Wharves. The superintendent of streets refused to accept the teams without specific orders to this effect from the head of the department under which he works and so informed the man who brought the teams to the stables, Mr. E. Piner, chief of the sanitary police, who then left the teams tied on city property. The teams finally broke away or were locsed and word was received at the City Hall yesterday that the teams had been taken up by a negro man, who was asking what disposition he was to make of them.

Claims Insufficient Notice.

Members of the Council and the Mayor criticised the method adopted by the health department in turning over the work, saying that insufficient notice was given, and that it was cruelty to animals to leave the teams out in the streets all night without feed or water. Dr. Nesbitt, the superintendent, assumed entire responsibility for sending the teams to the city stables, saying that the chief of the sanitary police was only carrying out his orders and that he himself was acting in accordance with the resolution of the Board of Health and in line with the original idea of the health department at the time the budget was made up that after the incinerator was completed the removal of slops and carrion would be done by the city forces along with tarsh collections. The superintendent of streets stated that he did not have room at the city stables for the additional teams. Chairman Willard, of the Board of Health, maintained that the city had had ample notice of the purpose of the health department, the resolution having been adopted last Friday night at a meeting at which the Mayor, a member of the board, was present, even though the official communication did not reach the City Hall until Monday at noon.

Will Act Till September 1st.

Under the agreement reached yesterday, following a lengthy discussion of the question, the health department will again take charge of the teams and continue until the 1st of September to remove the garbage and carrion, the Council having authorized the health board to take from the scavenging fund in its possession an amount sufficient to cover the cost. An appeal was made by Dr. Nesbitt for increased equipment, saying that the present teams were inadequate to take care of the situation. Extra teams will likely be put on by him so that the city can be cleaned up by September 1st.

The contention of the City Council, acting in light of legal opinion given by City Attorney Bryan, was that under the law the County Board of Health alone is vested with the power to maintain equipment for the removal of slops and carrion, the act of the last Legislature consolidating the work having stripped the Council of any power it might have had in such matters, but that in the event the County Board of Health should admit its inability to perform the work and abandon it entirely scavenging, slop removal and all, then in the interest of the health of the community it would be the duty of the Council to step in and take charge of the situation, and it would.

The County Board of Health has maintained that the law expressly places this work in charge of the city and that should the city attorney's ruling be carried to its logical conclusion then the waterworks plant and sewerage system would properly come under the direct charge of the County Board of Health, the financing and employment of the officials and employes as well as the supervision of the plants. The health department merely took over the work pending completion of the incinerator, it is contended.

The question was put squarely up to the Board of Health in the light it is viewed by the City Council at the joint meeting, and when the members of the Board of Health agreed, though somewhat unwillingly, that the Council take over all the sanitary work, the Councilmen asked to be given until September 1st "to think it over." Meanwhile, the work is to be continued by the health department and paid for by the city out of the scavenging fund.

When September 1st arrives, if the city decides that it will not take over the garbage and carrion removal, then the city will make an appropriation to carry on the work through the health department, costing approximately $300 a month, it was stated to the joint meeting by Dr. Nesbitt.

Supt. McAlister Makes Statement.

Mr. John C. McAlister, the very capable and always genial and accommodating superintendent of streets, who received many fine compliments from members of the Council for the excellent work he is doing in his department, was present at the joint meeting, and made a statement with reference to the charge that his department had refused to remove watermelon rinds from the streets as made by Dr. Nesbitt in a recent interview. He said he had never received a letter or communication or verbal request from the County Board of Health, Dr. Nesbitt or any other member of the health department to remove watermelon rinds from the streets, although the trash wagons had been doing this work whenever it did not interfere with their regular work which quite takes up all their time.

Chairman Willard, of the Board of Health, had the floor at the time.

"Whoever says I did tells a lie," shouted the superintendent of streets.

"Sit down, sit down," commanded

WOULD RESTORE OLD ORDER

Council Favors Dissolution of the Consolidated Health Department—Resolution Adopted by Body Yesterday.

Members of the City Council are of the opinion that the County Health Department has been a failure and has been extravagantly managed, and will, therefore, ask the Legislature at the special session next month to repeal the law enacted at the last session consolidating the city and county health departments and restore the old order of things. The views of the Council, or to be more exact, four members of that body, were expressed in a resolution adopted at a special meeting yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, immediately following the conference with the County Board of Health, told of elsewhere in today's paper.

As the members of the County Board of Health left the Council chamber, the opinion prevailed among those present who had not been taken into the confidence of the plans of the majority of the Council that the long controversy between the County Board of Health and Council was nearing an end, as the two bodies had apparently got nearer together at the conference than they had ever been. This opinion, one might say hope, was soon dispelled, however, for as soon as the Council convened for business Councilman Merritt drew from his inside coat pocket a carefully prepared resolution that he had caused to be drafted, urging New Hanover's representatives in the Legislature to use their efforts to abolish the consolidated health department.

Councilman Loughlin, who has stood firmly with the County Board of Health, all along, pleaded in vain that the resolution be not adopted at that time, especially right on the heels of a promise of an adjustment of the differences between the two boards.

Councilman Wood would not hear to the proposal that consideration be deferred, saying that everything he had favored lately had been defeated, and he was determined that this resolution should be put through. Mayor Moore counseled that it was an inopportune time to adopt the resolution. Councilman Chadwick, who favored the resolution at a later date, thought it unwise to adopt it at that time. Councilman Jones said that he had had nothing to say in the discussions that had been going on during the day, but that his attitude was unchanged; that he was against the present health department. The Council, he considered, had made a bad mistake in not refusing at the beginning to make the appropriation for the health department, thus forcing the Board of Health into the courts for a decision as to which of the two bodies was supreme.

County Still Supreme.

The Council was advised by Councilman Loughlin that in the event the Legislature does change the county health bill and restore the old order of things that the County Board of Health would still be supreme, having supervision and authority over the city board of health, and its department, through an amendment of the State health laws, passed at the last Legislature which provides for a county health officer. This health officer is at present Dr. Nesbitt, and he would continue to hold the office until his term expires two years hence. He would be in charge of the health affairs of the county, working under the County Board of Health. Any city department established would be operated under his direction.

Councilman Loughlin's colleagues were not in a mood to pay heed to the point raised by him and adopted the following resolution, Councilman Chadwick voting for it, though still protesting that he thought it would be best to delay action.

"Whereas, The General Assembly of North Carolina, at its session of 1913 passed an act consolidating the City Health Department with that of the County Health Department, and made a board known as the County Board of Health, and

"Whereas, In the opinion of the Board of Councilmen of the City of Wilmington, the management of the Health Department of the city and county, under said act has been so far a failure, and extravagantly managed, therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the Board of Councilmen of the City of Wilmington, in meeting assembled:

"First, That it is the opinion of this board that the act creating the County Health Board and consolidating the same with the City Health Department of the City of Wilmington, should and ought to be repealed.

"Second, Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be by the city clerk and treasurer transmitted to the representatives of New Hanover county in the General Assembly, requesting them to use their efforts to repeal said act and restore the conditions as they existed prior to the passage of said act."

The resolution is signed by Councilmen B. A. Merritt W. F. Jones, T. W. Wood and D. N. Chadwick, Jr. They voted for it. Councilman Loughlin voted in the negative.

Proposed Appraisal.

At the regular meeting of the Council yesterday morning a communication was received from Chairman Willard, of the Board of County Commissioners, with reference to the proposal of the Council that property belonging to the city and used by the health department be appraised and one-fifth of the assessed value be taxed against the county, on which action was deferred until a later meeting. The communication follows:

"To the City Council, Wilmington, N. C.:

"Gentlemen—At the last meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, a communication was received from the Board of Health, stating that your honorable body had requested an appraisement of the property turned over by the city to the Board of Health with a view of collecting one-fifth of Mr. L. W. Moore and the chairman, county. The matter was referred to Mr. L. W. Moore and the Chairman, for attention.

"We hope, upon giving the matter further consideration, you will decide that it is unnecessary to take this action. The sum involved can only amount to a few hundred dollars (the total valuation certainly being less than $3,000), and it seems to us that as between the city and county, it is a question which does not call for such strict accounting between the two bodies.

"We would call to your attention the fact that the county, at some inconvenience, is furnishing, without cost to the Board of Health, the rooms necessary for its offices. The county also permits the Board of Health to use its safe so as to save the expense of purchasing a new one, and permits a county employe to act as janitor for have not thought it necessary to raise the Board of Health quarters. We any question about these items as we felt that the interests of tax payers were not affected whether they were borne by the county or Board of Health.

"There are a number of other expenditures which the county bears, which, strictly speaking, should be divided between the city and county on a different basis, such as the Associated Charities, the United Charities, the Red Cross Society, the James Walker Memorial Hospital.

"If an exact accounting between the city and county is to be maintained, we would be justified in asking for an adjustment of these expenditures on a different basis.

"We respectfully request that you abandon the idea of an appraisement of the property turned over to the Board of Health, and permit the work to proceed with the present equipment.

"Yours very truly,

"M. S. WILLARD,

"Chairman Board County Commissioners."

Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, stated for the information of the Council that the incinerator extras will amount to about $800, and that the county could be required to pay one-fifth of this amount also. It was decided to consider the matter in conference later in the day, but it was not reached, going over until the next meeting.

Will Have Hearing Today.

Chief H. H. Redfern, of Lumberton, brought the two young men, John Skipper and Frank Riddick, who were arrested in Lumberton Tuesday night, to Wilmington on the noon train yesterday, and turned them over to the local authorities. They were placed in jail, and will have a hearing today before Justice Harriss. They are charged with having been connected with several robberies which occurred at Delgado Saturday and Sunday night. There are warrants out for two other young men, but they have not yet been located.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY CHARGED.

Young Traveling Man Arrested for Alleged Larceny of Suit Case.

Gordon Johnson, a young man of this city, is being held at the police station on a warrant sworn out by Mr. Arthur Hewlett, charging him with having taken a suit case from Hewlett Tuesday night by force. Johnson denies the charge, and states that he will be able to prove his innocence when the case is called for trial. Johnson travels for a Charlotte novelty house, and for the last few days has been staying at the beach.

He contends that he and Hewlett went to a certain place where they left his suit case. Suspecting, so he says, that he might get into a fight he left the place, and went back later to get his suit case. Hewlett states that he was walking alone Ninth and Walnut streets when he met Johnson, who demanded the suit case which he was carrying. He refused to give it to him, and it was taken from him by force, and it was only with the aid of friends that he got it back. Johnson, it is said, told where his suit case was and that those who went to look for it found that it was where he stated.

Johnson is being held in default of $500 bond, and will probably have a hearing before the Recorder this morning.

Mr. Hewlett says that Johnson was a passenger in his automobile awhile in the afternoon and that is all he knows about the man, except his experience with him at night.

Rev. Thos. P. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, has returned from Sewanee, Tenn., where he went to attend a Sunday School convention and Institute of the Missionary department of the Sewanee, which embraces all the Southern States. The meetings were held at the University of the South from August 5th to the 10th, and were attended by representatives from 11 dioceses of the South. The delegates from the Diocese of East North Carolina were Mr. Noe and Rev. W. E. Cox, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, of this city. Mr. Noe was made chairman of the board of religious education for the Diocese of East North Carolina, and Mr. Cox, secretary. Mr. Cox is now visiting relatives in Knoxville, Tenn., and will return to the city the latter part of the week.

Blood is Purified Quickly in Summer

Here is a Remedy that has Wonderful Action and Promotes Health.

S. S. S. Makes Your Blood Corpuscles Unite for Mutual Protection.

Mingling with your food, arousing stomach action, absorbed immediately into your blood, the famous remedy known as S. S. S. has a wonderful action. Its main purpose is to stimulate cellular activity or that peculiar process which instantly changes the worn-out cells for the new red blood corpuscles.

The medicinal value of the components of S. S. S. is relatively just as vital to healthy blood as the nutriment obtained from grain, meat, fats, sugars or any other part of our daily food is to the natural reconstructive requirements of the tissues. And there is one component of S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating the cellular tissue to a healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. Thus, in cases of skin disease such as eczema, acne, herpes, tetter or psoriasis, first purify your blood with S. S. S. so it will enable the tissues to rebuild their cellular strength and regain their normal health.

S. S. S. is purely a botanical product, and you will make a great mistake to have some enthusiast palm off a mineral preparation that may do you irreparable harm.

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 191 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any obstinate skin trouble, write to their Medical Department for free advice. It will be worth your while to do so.

DR. HUMPHREY OF MT. TABOR WEDS MISS BLAND AT BURGAW

Burgaw, N. C., Aug. 20.—Burgaw was surprised today when Dr. Humphrey, of Mt. Tabor, arrived in an automobile with Dr. Baggett and Mrs. Baggett, of Mt. Tabor, and shortly after his arrival called in Rev. R. E. Peele and was married to Miss Lorena Bland, at the home of her father, J. T. Bland, Esq. Their engagement has been known for some time, but it was expected that the interesting event would occur in the Fall. Hence the suddenness of the happy affair today took the friends of the popular couple completely by surprise. However, it was learned that they had some time since, fixed today as the date, and so well was the secret guarded that none outside the family had an inkling of it. Immediately after the ceremony, the couple, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Baggett; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bland, Jr., and Messrs. Joe and Ben Bland, brothers of the bride, left in automobiles for Wrightsville Beach, and thence to Mt. Tabor, where Dr. Humphrey has located. He was located here for a short time, later going to Bannerman's Bridge, where he was physician for the Buell Lumber Co. Still later he went to Mt. Tabor, where he enjoys a lucrative and constantly growing practice. Mrs. Humphrey is the fifth bride Burgaw has lost from her social life so far this year.

which has already been published in The Star. There have been 21 new Councils established during the year and a total increase in membership of 3,484.

The report of State Treasurer Fulp, of Kernersville, showed that the total receipts for the past year were $28,765.04, and the total expenditures $16,679.54, leaving a balance of $12,085.50. The total amount of bonds held by the State Council is $20,000. Altogether the State Council seems to be in a very healthy financial condition, he stated.

Boating Party.

Fifteen of the delegates came up from Morehead City Tuesday in the launch U. M. Gillikin, of Morehead City. They left Morehead at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, got breakfast at Swansboro, stopped at Bogg's Inlet and inspected the life saving station, and reached Wrightsville Beach at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon after a most enjoyable trip. The members of the party besides Mr. Gillikin were Mr. George E. Hood and Messrs. Spears, Moore and Latham, of Goldsboro; Messrs. Wilson and McPhail, of Mt. Olive; Messrs. Walter Clark, Jr., W. A. Cooper, E. A. Murray, A. T. Horton and A. H. Mooneyham, of Raleigh; Mr. W. M. Ruth, Salisbury; Mr. Bruce Carraway, of Kinston, and Mr. W. J. Moore, of Morehead City.

Morning Session.

The first session of the convention was opened in the assembly hall of the Oceanic Hotel yesterday morning at 10 o'clock by State Councilor N. L. Eure, of Greensboro, with several hundred delegates in attendance. The official headquarters of the convention had been established at the Seashore Hotel, but it was decided to hold the business meetings of the convention at the Oceanic Hotel as the hall there is larger than at the Seashore. The address of welcome was made in his usual splendid style by Woodus Kellum, Esq., of Wilmington, and was responded to by Mr. J. R. Joyce, a delegate from Reidsville.

Mr. Kellum stated that a few months ago it had been decided by the local committee on arrangements to make elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the visiting delegates, but this had not been done owing to the wish of the State organization that business be made the first consideration. Mr. Kellum thought that even the address of welcome would be rather poor in that he had been selected to deliver it. However, he considered it a great pleasure in behalf of Wilmington, Wrightsville Beach and the local Councils to welcome the visitors.

He described Wilmington as a growing city where push and enterprise reside on every corner and the streets are paved with golden opportunities. Her citizens are law abiding and industrious, a fact which every Junior from the principles held by the order could recognize as being greatly in her favor. The city possesses so many advantages and attractive features that Mr. Kellum said he felt sure that many of the visitors would be induced to make it their permanent home.

Wrightsville Beach was finished, he said, long before the others, and thus possessed all the improvements as well as other fine features which go to make it the most attractive Summer resort on the South Atlantic coast. All of the pleasures of the city and the resort were at the disposal of the visitors and it was his great pleasure to big them welcome, he said in conclusion.

State Councilor Eure introduced Mr. J. R. Joyce, of Reidsville, as the one selected to make the response, stating that one of the main considerations in making the selection was the fact that he was the oldest bachelor in the house. Mr. Joyce responded in a most happy and pleasing manner.

In behalf of the visitors, he stated, that they very much appreciated the cordial welcome voiced by Mr. Kellum, and that even before he had spoken the visitors had felt that they were at home and had made themselves feel so. He complimented Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach for their many advantages. He stated that Wrightsville Beach used to have five different kinds of water, these being fresh, salt, hot, cold and "fire water". Time and sentiment, however, changed "fire water" to "nigh water" and finally even this was banished.

Juniors and "Fire Water."

He was glad that it had been banished for the Junior Order stood for something higher and better, and did not have to depend upon "fire water" for their pleasure. It was a great pleasure, he stated, for the members of the order to assemble at the resort for their annual meeting, and they could only wish that it was always Summer, and that they could meet every Summer at Wrightsville. It afforded him much pleasure on behalf of the visitors to express their thanks for the sincere and cordial welcome which had greeted them on this occasion.

Councilor Eure appointed the following delegates as a committee on officers' reports: W. T. Wooten, Reidsville; A. W. Colson, Mooresville; Walter Clark, Jr., Raleigh. A committee on the good of the order was also appointed as follows: J. J. Phoenix, Greensboro; L. C. McKaughan, Winston-Salem; R. H. Fulghum, Wilson.

The Council then went into executive session. One of the principal matters considered was the report of the credentials committee which showed that there were about 150 applications for membership in the State Council. These delegates were given the State Council degree, and made members of the State Council. The minutes of the last meeting were also read and approved.

35 CAUGHT UNDERGROUND.

Remain for Two Hours Entombed in Aqueduct in Perilous Condition.

New York, Aug. 20.—Thirty-five workmen caught 440 feet underground in a section of the Catskill aqueduct in course of construction under Washington Heights here, when fire broke out in the shaft house overhead tonight, were found unharmed two hours later when the fire was controlled. Their chief suffering had been from lack of air.

The first was spectacular and besides badly damaging the massive shaft building, spread to apartment houses closely adjoining it. Two apartment buildings were burned out and others damaged.

When the fire broke out the men in the underground working fled 1,500 feet to the end of the section and huddled there, terror stricken until the air began to clear. Then one made his way to the telephone connecting with the street and told of the safety of all. Preparations were at once made to bring them to the surface.

More than 2,000,000 grass hats were exported to the United States from the Dutch West Indies during the third quarter of 1912.

WITH THE MOVIES

The Bijou is certainly scoring heavily these days and crowning itself with glory. For instance, today brings forth another great Warner feature, his latest three-reel release, and it is well to add right here that these Warner features are something exclusive for the Bijou in this section, and it is a piece of big enterprise in the attractive, up-to-date theatre getting them. The great Warner feature for today is "Their Lives by a Thread," and it will presented the noted and charmnig actress, Martha Russell, in the stellar role. It is a thrilling story of the old and new West, and a great spectacular feature is when Miss Russell, suspended at a height of 500 feet, rides across an excavation to save her lover. A feature film of the rest of the bill is Lubin's latest, "The Exile."

Today at the Grand.

Four swell films, each the latest and, of course, the best, because the Grand Theatre never permits anything else to be flashed on its big screen, will be presented at the theatre today. The films will meet every taste and immensely delight all, and the crowds that throng the popular spot will, as usual, find solid comfort on tap. They will also find the same old tiny price of admission, 5 cents, afternoon and night. A great Edison dramatic, "A Tardy Recognition," with Bigelow Cooper, Richard Neill, Mary Abbey, little Edna Hamel and others in the cast, will lead the way. Another powerful dramatic, a story of country and city life, of a wronged husband, and a repentant wife, will run a close second in Lubin's "Her Husband's Picture." A film with peculiar interest to this section will also be offered today in "Crabs and Lobsters." It will be highly interesting to folks of a seaport town. Yet another fine one for today, one of much information, as well as entertainment, is "Tobacco Cultivation."

WILL ADJOURN SATURDAY.

Tennessee Legislature Will Quit Unless Members Return.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 20.—At a meeting of the regular Democratic caucus today a resolution was adopted providing that the fifty-eighth General Assembly of Tennessee adjourn sine die on next Saturday unless by that time the fusion members had signified their intention of returning to the capital and completing the legislative quorum. Fusion leaders declare that the action of the caucus means that the hold-over session of the Legislature is to terminate next Saturday. The Legislature met today with practically all the regular Democratic members present and re-elected the State board of election commissioners. This action was taken in joint convention of the two houses and was said to be for the purpose of curing legal defects in the previous election.

the Mayor, who pounded away on his desk with his fists.

Mr. McAlister took his seat, reluctantly.

Chairman Willard, who had remained standing, during the remarks of Mr. McAlister, waited for a moment for the tension to relax and then stated:

"I do not know what he is talking about, but anyway I am glad he got it out of his system."

Then without paying further attention to the incident, Chairman Willard continued his remarks.

Prof. Washington Catlett, member of the Board of Health, made an appeal for harmony between the two bodies and urged that all differences be adjusted through joint conferences. He said that his idea at the time of the Board of Health resolution, and he so urged before his board, was that it be put in the nature of a request rather than a command to the city authorities to take over the garbage and carrion removal. He favored taking over the slop and carrion work in the interest of economy. He did not see the need of having two sets of teams for doing the same work. It was further stated by Prof. Catlett that if the Council hasn't the power already that the Board of Health could give it the power to take charge of this work.

City Attorney Bryan, speaking for the Council, wanted to know the attitude of the Board of Health, he said, so that he could advise the body from a legal standpoint as to what action to take to meet the exigencies of the situation. If the Board of Health abandons the sanitary work entirely, he said, then the Council would by force step in and take charge in the interest of the health of the community.

Councilman Merritt stated that it was the purpose of the Council to follow the letter of the law as interpreted for the board by the city attorney.

In speaking to the joint meeting on the matter, Dr. Nesbitt made the point that it was the purpose of the health department, and it was so provided in a city ordinance, that the slops be drained of all the moisture and then collected by the street force and hauled to the incinerator. He maintained that the Council should have known of the plan of the health department as it was repeatedly stated in his remarks with reference to the budget some months ago and declared it rather late for the Council to be taking up the matter. Dr. Nesbitt said he believed his board was willing to do anything in reason for cleaning up the city and that this was shown in a measure by the department continuing 19 days longer than it was originally intended to collect and remove garbage and carrion. There has been too much expense at the incinerator, he said, which was due to the large amount of non-combustible material that is hauled there.

There were present at the conference Mayor Moore, who presided; all members of the City Council; Chairman Willard, of the Board of Health, Dr. J. B. Cranmer, Prof. Washington Catlett, of the Board of Health, and Dr. Nesbitt, the superintendent; Dr. C. P. Bolles, the other member of the board, being out of the city.

To Discard Freckles, Tan, Pimples, Wrinkles

(From Feminine World.)

The use of creams on the face sometimes causes hair to grow. You can avoid the risk of acquiring superfluous hair by avoiding cosmetics and using mercolized wax instead. There is nothing better for any condition of the skin, as the wax actually absorbs the offensive cuticle. The latter is naturally replaced by a clear, smooth, healthy complexion, full of life and expression. It's the sensible way to discard pimpled skin. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any druggist's, and apply nightly like cold cream, erasing in the morning with soap and water. It takes a week or so to complete the transformation.

The ideal wrinkle eradicator is made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution brings almost instantaneous results.

COTTON MARKET MORE ACTIVE

Advances Reflected Uneasiness Over the New Crop Outlook—Trading Was More General Through the Session.

New York, Aug. 20.—The cotton market was more active and trading more general today than for weeks, if not motnhs past, while prices not only made new high ground for the movement, but sold up to or over the 11½c. level on most of the new crop months.

The advances seemed to reflect increasing uneasiness over the new crop outlook, and rumors that the less favorable character of the news in this respect was stimulating a better demand from spinners, probably added to the activity of the buying movement. Realizing caused slight reactions from time to time during the day, but the general tendency was upward, with the highest levels reached in the late trading, and with the close very steady at a net gain of from 11 to 30 points.

Further deterioration reports from the Southwest were reflected in higher Liverpool cables. The market here opened firm at an advance of from 3 to 11 points. There was a good deal of realizing at the advance and some early irregularity was promoted by the views of local map readers, who thought that prospects were better for showers in the Southwest. The official forecast, however, was for generally fair weather in the Western belt, and the market quickly firmed up again on active buying by Wall Street and local commission houses.

Spot people were also good buyers, which some thought to be for mill account, while New Orleans and Southwestern wires brought buying orders here, which were supposed to be influenced by unfavorable crop accounts. Reports of scattered showers in Texas checked the advance and caused reactions of 5 or 6 points during the early afternoon, but offerings were not aggressive, and prices later sold 20 to 31 points net higher on active new crop positions, with December contracts touching 11.52, or 69 points above the low record of last week. The close was within a point or two of the best.

FRANK CASE NEARS END.

Prosecution and Defense Rest Cases. Attorneys' Argument Next.

Atlanta, Aug. 20.—Prosecution and defense of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagen, rested their case late today. Arguments of the attorneys will be heard tomorrow and it is expected the case will go to the jury Friday morning. The trial has been in progress for 24 days.

The last witness on the stand for the defense was Frank himself.

The accused factory superintendent who, in his first statement to the jury, declared he did not know Mary Phagan, was re-called to deny later testimony that he had been seen talking with the girl in March at the factory where the murder occurred in April. Frank said this was false.

Hypothetical questions and expert medical testimony were employed today to strengthen the evidence of Dr. H. F. Harris, secretary of the State Board of Health with reference to the time that elapsed between Mary Phagan's luncheon and the murder. Dr. Harris based his opinions on an examination of the contents of the girl's stomach. His evidence was vigorously attacked by other physicians, and today the State introduced Dr. Clarence Johnson and Dr. George M. Niles, both of Atlanta, who agreed with Dr. Harris that the murder must have been committed within an hour after Mary Phagan had eaten her luncheon.

Judge Roan announced today a suspension of the 4-hour limit to speeches b ythe attorneys, who will begin summing up the case before the jury early tomorrow.

Come to our store on Wednesday or Thursday and have your knife sharpened by an expert. Absolutely free. Peck & Holloway, 109 North Front street. (advertisement.)

STOCKS GAIN IN STRENGTH

Relief from Alarm Over Affairs in Mexico the Most Definite Force in Determining Sentiment. European Operations.

New York, Aug. 20.—Conditions in the Stock Market were more propitious today and the list responded by regaining the ground lost yesterday, although it did not hold this advantage throughout the session. Relief from alarm over affairs in Mexico was the most definite force in formulating sentiment. Another important influence was cessation of heavy selling by Europe. European operations here were on a reduced scale, and were about equally divided between buying and selling.

Stocks were not in abundant supply, as bear traders discovered when they attempted to cover. The most pronounced movement was in the first hour of trading, when many of the favorites advanced from one to two points. The copper stocks showed strength. Smelting meeting with special favor because of the improvement in Mexican news. Some of the specialties were strong. National Biscuit rose five points. The Petroleum stocks made a good showing and a bullish demonstration in Interborough, preferred, drew attention to that stock. The upturn aroused little speculative interest, and bull traders did not attempt to follow it up. Trading became little-s and prices eased off.

Steel, one of the strong features of the early trading, relinquished most of its gain, but later stiffened again. New business for August was reported, showing improvement over July.

Boads were steady, with little trading in important issues. Total sales, par value, $91,000.

United States 4s, compon, advanced ¾, and the registered declined ¾ on call. Total sales were 186,100, including A. C. L., 200; C. and O., 800; L. V., 2,100; L. and N., 100; N. and W., 400; S. A. NEGRO SHOOTS HIS SON.

Brutal Affair Occurs in Guilford County—Boy Badly Crippled.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, Aug. 20.—Ed. Hodges, a negro 45 years old, living in the eastern part of the county, yesterday afternoon brutally shot his son, Leonard Hodges, a boy about 17 years old. A shot gun was used and the entire load went into the boy's leg and thigh.

The inhuman father had pointed the gun at he boy's head, no doubt, intending to kill him, but the boy threw the gun on one side and downwards, so that the shot miscarried. He is in bad shape,, but will recover. Officers wetn from here to the scene of the shooting and arrested the father. The boy was carrie dto the county home and is being treated by Dr. Jones, county superintendent of health. The shooting followed a quarrel. The elder Hodges has a bad reputation and is said to have been very cruel to his family.

spectator. The prisoner dodged the camera squad while being removed to jail. Shielding his face with a handkerchief, he broke into a run, greatly to the alarm of the aged deputy who had him in charge, and stopped only when bystanders began a hue and cry.

Then, still holding his handkerchief over his face he went quietly to jail, and was lodged ina cell not far from Thaw.

Those who expected picturesque French-Canadian scenes were sadly disappointed. The judge did not appear at all, granting the application fo rthe writ of habeas corpus in private. Thaw remained throughout the day in the jail on the crest of a hill hal fa mile away. Openly partisan to the fugitive in their gossip, the townspeople never showed their comparative lack of interest by their absence from the court house.

Though theer are 20,000 persons in Sherbrooke, less than 300 came to the court. Of these 22 were women. There was the usual craning of necks, the usual whispers and the usual speculation, but crowding and shoving was conspicuously lacking.

Messrs. Conger and Hornbeck waited like the others for the disposition of the Thaw case and departed with the immigration authorities when it was announced that the application for the writ of habeas corpus had been granted and would come up for argument in the morning.

Wanted to "Get Thaw."

"I am here to get Thaw," said Mr. Conger. "Get him I will."

"Thaw certainly will be returned to New York State," continued the District Attorney, "probably by deportation, as the Canadian government does not want him on its hands. If not by deportation, then by extradition. We have a lot of possibilities to develop in both directions; in fact, it is a matte rof choosing the best one. We shall try to do that. Thaw will be back in Matteawan soon. Then we will see whether he can escape again.

"I am co-operating with officials of the Canadian immigration service who have full powe rto act on authority from their superiors in Otawa. They are fully disposed to help us, and I hope, although I have no reason at present to expect, that when he is deported it will be to the border of New York State, where we will not have to go through further formalities as we would if he were deported to some State other than New York.

If, by chance, our plan to secure Thaw by deportation falls through, and I scarcely can imagine such a contingency, you may be sure there will be a strong case against him to bring extradition. It would not be proper at this time to say upon just what grounds we shall move."

Warrant Charges Conspiracy.

Mr. Conger carries with him a warrant charging Thaw and his five deliverers with conspiracy, but he admitted that its efficiency was uncertain. "That is the least of my worries, though," he added.

Tomorrow the district attorney hopes to receive more assistance in his activities here. He was assisted today by Hector Verret, K. C., who announced himself as counsel for Dr. Kieb, superintendent at Matteawan.

Tomorrow it was expected that a deputy attorney general would arrive from Albany.

Thaw was a busy man with his correspondence and callers today. Most of the former was by telegraph, and he received frequent assurances of support from relatives and friends. His mother, Mrs. Mary Fopley Thaw, however had up to tonight sent him no word as far as could be learned.

Thaw Lonesome.

Perhaps the most interesting of the telegrams he sent was that which indicated a sense of lonesomeness and a longing for a direct word from some one near to him in the midst of his fight for liberty. His sister, Mr. Margaret Thaw Carnegie, wife of George Lauder Carnegie, Jr., had telegraphed Harry that she was ready to start for Sherbrooke "if I can be of any help to you." His answer was "Yes, come. I need you. Harry."

Mrs. Carnegie's action was equally prompt and quite as emphatic, for she notified her brother that both she and her husband would be here to greet him tonight. They reserved rooms at a local hotel and Thaw expressed a wish to his counsel that his sister be brought to the jail as soon as she arrived.

Other telegrams sent or received by Thaw referred to legal and medical assistance to advice as to the possibility of extraditing him; offers of assistance from detectives and a call by him upon his relatives in Pittsburgh for funds. This was answered by a telegram from the Union National Bank saying, "Draft will be honored."

Thaw had only a few cents, the governor of the jail said, when he was searched after his commitment. Among the telegrams was one from Hugh O'Mara, the Pittsburgh detective long identified as a worker for Thaw.

"I have opinions from best authorities that you cannot be extradited. Wire me what can be done for you from here," was O'Mara's message.

Thaw's Petition.

Thaw in his petition for a writ of habeas corpus set forth first that he was committed to jail "without any preliminary examination whatever, and without any opportunity having been given him to be heard."

He recited further that he is not charged with "any offense against the commonwealth laws of Canada, or of any other country" and because the offense charged against him is hot an offense under Canadian law, he therefore cannot betried."

The alleged offense with which Thaw is charged is briefly that he is a "fugitive from Matteawan penitentiary, wheer he was serving a life sentence for a common charge which he was convicted of."

It is the wording of this complaint that Thaw's attorneys hope to carry successfully through tomorrow's skirmish without uncovering their principal defense.

"Why we have masked batteries that will blow any case of this kind to smithereens," one of his attorneys exclaimed this evening while discussing the matter.

Thaw also complains in his petition that he was never confined at Matteawan on a criminal charge, and that it is untrue that he ever was convicted of any crime or that he was confined for life.

As a further reason why his present detention is illegal the prisoner contends he was arrested by Chief of Police Bourdeau, of Banford, who also made the complaint and executed the warrant he himself had sworn out.

Thaw "prayed" in his petition that he be released from further detention and confinement, making oath over his signature that he is detained "without reasonable cause."

Immigration Authorities to Act.

It will be on this prayer of Thaw's for freedom that Judge Globensky must pass tomorrow. The agents of the Dominion immigration department have seriously considered the probability that Thaw will be released. They do not plan to give him more than amoment's freedom. To sustain their case they have hal fa dozen clauses in the immigration act which they say are applicable.

Among these is one which places in the "prohibited class" any "insane persons or persons who have been insane within fiveyears." Another clause provides for the deportation of any persons who enter Canada by force or misreprentation or stealth."

sign in favor of a President ad interim.

Third—The fixing of an early date for the Presidential election, and Fourth — That Gen. Huerta should not be a candidate for the Presidency.

An additional feature of the American note was the request for a reply to the question as to what, in the opinion of General Huerta, the present conditions were due, and what is the remedy.

General Huerta's flat refusal to accede to the four demands would appear to be sufficient reason to consider that the negotiations between the two governments were definitely concluded, but in replying to Washington's pointed request for an explanation regarding conditions in Mexico and the cause, General Huerta himself injected into the controversy what might be regarded as a counter demand, namely, that of recognition.

In a geneарl way, President Huerta places the blame of Mexico's civil war upon the United States. He insists that had it not been for President Wilson's refusal to recognize his administration, he long ago would have suppressed the rebellion, and even now, he asserts, the United States can indirectly enable him to restore order in a comparatively short time. He asks of the United States government only recognition and the withdrawal of the American battleships.

The last section of a long cipher report prepared by President Wilson's personal representative, John Lind, should have reached Washington today, but for three days the American government has been fully aware of the character of President Huerta's reply, as a summary was sent soon after the delivery of the reply at the embassy.

Frederico Gambon, Mexican foreign minister, and other officials of the government continue to reassure the public, utilizing the local press for the purpose; that the negotiations have not been concluded, but on the other hand are progressing cordially, and satisfactorily. The foreign minister goes so far as to say that, in his opinion a wholly satisfactory arrangement will be reached within a few days.

Mr. Lind and the Mexican foreign minister had another long conference, but the nature of the conversation has not been revealed.

NATIONAL TENNIS EVENT.

McLaughlin and Bundy Defend Their Title Against Strachan and Griffin.

New York, Aug. 20.—That a complete mastery of the game of tennis cannot be achieved in a year, was demonstrated on the Casino courts here today, When Maurice E. McLoughlin and T. C. Bundy, National doubles champions, successfully defended their title against J. R. Strachan and C. R. Griffin, the challengers. The championship pair defeated their youthful rivals in straight sets, at 6—4, 7—5, 6—1, and even these figures do not express the margin of victory always in the hands of the older and more experienced players.

The challengers by virtue of their spectacular march through the preliminary rounds of the doubles earlier in the season were expected by many spectators to give McLoughlin and Bundy a sensational battle. When they actually crossed racquets with the champions, however, it was seen that their play still lacked the finesse of the doubles master. They played a strong, steady game, but a game that owing to its immaturity was not capable of conquering the veteran pair across the net.

The challengers played their best game even when they realized that defeat must be theirs, but, meantime, the champions were piling up the points. An adequate idea of the difference in the play of two pairs may be gained from the fact that McLoughlin and Bundy scored 36 earned points to 21 by their younger rivals. On nets double faults and outs by their opponents, the champions gained 71 points while giving away 57.

Strachan and Griffin made their stand in the second set, but while they carried it to deuce, they were unable to break through. Bundy here played the steadier game, while McLoughlin furnished spectacular smashes. Both Strachan and Griffin netted and outed repeatedly. At the finish the champions swung into their old time game, and simply smothered the challengers.

TRAINING SCHOOL OVER.

Greenville Misses the Misses and the Many Teachers.

Greenville, N. C., Aug. 20.—The Training School is over until some time in September, and the girls are gone. But many will come back, and in the place of those who do not, will be others, as many and more. Already applications for rooms have filled the dormitories and still they come, many every day. The presence of so many young ladies and their absence, makes a very noticeable difference with the city. And, too, so many teachers have gone for vacation. Miss McKinney is at her home in Reidsville; Misses Lewis, McFayden and Comfort are at Montreat and Ridge Crest; Miss M. R. B. Muffly is in the mountains of Virginia; Miss Wilson has gone to her home in Greensboro; Miss Barrett has gone to visit her people at Athens, Ga.; Professor L. R. Meadows has gone to his old home in Louisiana, to visit his parents; Professor H. E. Austen is at Little Switzerland, in the mountains, and Messrs. Bricks and Pusey are off to Durham.

Professor W. H. Ragsdale has been at work on the examination of 125 young ladies, who took examinations here at the Training School for county certificates, as most of them are expected to teach in the rural schools.

CUTTING LEFT $10,900,000.

Widow of New York Lawyer Will Get $9,060,000.

New York, Aug. 20.—The official State appraisal of the estate of the late William Bayard Cutting, lawyer, financier and railroad director, transferred today to the Surrogate's Court, fixes the total value of the estate at $10,900,000.

The widow, Olivia M. Cutting, chief beneficiary, will receive $9,060,000. The remainder of the estate, with the exception of a few scattered donations, including $1,000 to Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., is left to other members of the family.

the Supreme Court of the United States in certain cases.

"That he was absent from his district when he should have been attending to his duties in court.

"That, contrary to law, he tried cases outside of his district."

There were other charges relating to what the judge's accusers claimed to be arbitrary conduct and one relating to personal habits. The accusations in part as a reiteration of attacks made on Judge Speer from time to time during his many years of service since his appointment to the Federal bench by President Arthur.

Members of the Georgia delegation in the House are greatly interested in the investigation, and probably will hold a conference within the next day or two to discuss it.

One of their number, it was said tonight, may be designated informally to start action in the House by introducing a resolution. Judge Speer will be given an opportunity to appear before the Judiciary committee just as Judge Archbald was accorded that right in the last impeachment case.

Chairman Clayton, at the direction of the committee, issued a brief statement after today's meeting, the burden of which was that the Department of Justice had transmitted to the committee a report bearing upon Judge Speer's official conduct; that the committee examined only a portion of the report and exhibit, and adjourned until next Friday to "as soon as possible determine what, if anything, the committee should do with respect to such report and papers."

MAURY I. DIGGS IS GUILTY SAYS JURY

of a felony and punished as therein provided.

"The term, inter-State commerce so far as herein involved means transportation from one State to another.

"To debauch is to lead away from purity ,to corrupt in characte ror morals, to pollute, to seduce from the path of virtue. A man debauches a woman when by insidious approach he breaks down her sense of delicacy and perverts her moral nature, arouses her animal passions and thus seduces her into lewd actions.

What Act Means.

"As I have heretofore intimated to you, it is immaterial what the characte rof the two girls involved in these charges was at the time of the acts charged. The act denounces the carrying into inter-State commerce for the immoral purposes specified, of any woman or girl regardless of whether the girl or woman who is subject of the act be lewd or chaste or whether or not the man himself previously has had improper relations with her.

"If you find thees girls were taken to Reno by the defendant in the manner charged," said the court, "then the only question remaining is as to the intention with which they were so taken. There is a homely adage that 'actions speak louder than words' and the truth of this is quite as applicable to judicial inquiries as in the ordinary affairs of life.

"And even if you find the defendant and his companion, Caminetti, were actuated in their departure or flight from Sacramento by a fear of exposure or arrest, but that, nevertheless, in taking these two girls along there existed the intention to subject them to the immoral purpose charged, the defendant is guilty."

The defense took exception to the charge in general and to specific instructions.

CLAYTON'S CREDENTIALS FILED.

Gov. O'Neal Stands by His Right to Make Appointment.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The commission of Representative Henry D. Clayton as Senator from Alabama, to succeed the late Senator Johnston, was presented to the Senate today by Senator Bankhead and reefrred to the elections committee. It had been withheld because many Senators questioned the right of Governor O'Neal to make an appointment without express authority from the Legislature.

Senator Bankhead moved that the credentials be referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. The motion prevailed without discussion. Senator Kern, chairman of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, has not indicated when the committee will consider the credentials.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 20.—Governor O'Neal today issued the following supplemental statement regarding his appointment of Congressman Henry D. Clayton to the United States Senate to succeed the late Senator Joseph F. Johnston:

"When I appointed Mr. Clayton I did so upon the advice of eminent counsel that I had the right and that it was my duty to thus fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Johnston. I am still firmly of the opinion that Mr. Clayton's appointment is valid and I shall continue to so believe until the Senate holds otherwise. I do not anticipate such holding by the Senate, and I shall not therefore, at this time consider any other course."

to help bring order out of chaos in the State government until the court of impeachment shall have rendered a verdict.

"No act of mine will compound the present confusion. Official chaos must end and the affairs of the State proceed, as if no impeachment proceedings were pending. Until the court of impeachment renders its decision I intend to do only such things as may be necessary for the smooth running of the business of the State."

Immediate Clash Expected.

An immediate clasn of authority between the rival Governors may follow Mr. Glynn's action of today. He announced that he will call upon the executive crelical staff which so far has remained loyal to Governor Sulzer for any service which may be needed. As an attempt at dismissal will follow the refusal of any employe to obey either claimant of the Governorship, it is predicted that a conflict which offers possibilities of bringing the situation to a head may be precipitated at any time.

FRANCIS BURTON HARRISON.

Selected as Governor General of the Philippines by President Wilson.

Washington Aug. 20.—Rpresentative Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, has been selected for governor general of the Philippines, by President Wilson.

Mr. Harrison was selected after months of personal consideration by President Wilson in which many applicants were eliminated.

The new governor general is a Democrat, a native of New York city, a lawyer by profession and has been a representative in five Congresses, his first service being in the 58th. He enlisted asa private in the Spanish war in the volunteers and was a candidate for lieutenant governor of New York in the campaign of 1904. He was educated at Yale University and the New York law school.

In connection with the announcement the White house had no comment to make on Mr. Harrison's attitude toward the Philippines beyond the remark that he would carryout Democratic party pledges.

A reorganization of the Philippine commission, however, is to be effected and some commissioners will be named within a few days.
